Arrest Of Aliens In Moscow

Drive Against Germans, Austrians, Swedes And Poles

(Special Cable)

BERLIN, Nov. 11.

A fresh wave of arrests in Russia is reported by the Moscow correspondent of the "Allgemeine Zeitung" who says that those arrested include five Germans, also Austrians, Swedes, Poles and other nationalities. The reasons for the obvious nervousness of the Political Police are not yet clear, but the safety methods are being employed in other places besides Moscow.

HEAVY POLLING IN BURMA ELECTIONS

RANGOON, Nov. 10.

The first day of the elections passed off smoothly. A large number of booths were erected on the footpaths and owing to their increased number and good police and traffic arrangements no rush was experienced. About forty persons have been arrested for impersonation at the polling stations where very brisk voting was witnessed in the morning and evening.

Among the prominent Indian candidates who sat in the last Council are Mr. S. A. S. Tyabji (son of the late Mr. Abbas Tyabji), Khan Bahadur Ibrahim Till Mahomed Khan, Mr. M. M. Rafi (the Mayor of Rangoon) and Mr. E. P. Pillai, while Mr. U. Ba Glay (editor of the Burmese "Daily Sun") who represented the Burmese Chamber in the last Council contested the non-Indian Labour seat.

Frontier Ban On "Red Shirts" Lifted

THEY MAY NOW ENTER ELECTION FRAY

But Governor Delivers Sermon On Constitutionalism

PESHAWAR: November 10.

"The forthcoming elections will be contested by all parties and I take this opportunity of saying that participation in elections by the Khudai Khidmatgar Party is welcomed by Government, but that participation must be on constitutional lines, for it is upon this condition that Government has agreed to suspend the ban that exists on this Province upon the Congress Party," said Sir Ralph Griffith, Governor of the Frontier Province, addressing the Council for the last time.

What It Means

His Excellency added: "So long as this condition is fulfilled, that Party and its leaders will enjoy the same share of political life in the province as is right under the Constitution. Some members of that Party will be returned as members of the new Assembly and may either form or help to form the Ministerial Party or may occupy the seats now occupied in this Council by the Opposition.

Opposition In Chamber

If the latter proves the case, then I would remind them of the convention by which the British Common's Opposition have come to be styled His Majesty's Opposition. The Ministry that will conduct and be responsible for the Government of this Province will be the leaders of the Party, which commands the majority of the votes of the electorate. That Government will be faced with opposition and criticism within this Council Chamber.

No Room For N. C. O.

But that opposition and that criticism must be conducted, just as the Government itself will be conducted, on constitutional lines. There is no place in the Constitution for non-co-operation which, whatever form it may take, can only be interpreted as a challenge which must and will be met."—A. P.

17,000 MEN & 200 SHIPS IDLE

But Employers Regard Strikers' Figures Exaggerated

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.

Bethlehem shipbuilding yards in Sanfrancisco will be quiet to-day following yesterday's walkout of 6,000 workers.

The strikers claim that 200 ships are idle and nearly 17,000 men, but employers regard these figures are exaggerated.

It is claimed that the strike is hundred per cent effective on the Pacific Coast.—Reuter.

HUGE LOSS TO HAWAII

Repercussions Of U. S. Shipping Strike

HONOLULU, Nov. 10.

The United States Shipping strike continues to paralyse the shipping transport here.

The tourist trade has severely been hit.

It is estimated that the strike has already cost Hawaii a hundred thousand sterling. Seven steamers are at present immobilised. Despite orders from the Union, leaders in San Francisco are asking the strikers to resume the strikers refuse to comply in the hope of obtaining recognition for the local longshoremen.

Meanwhile 600 passengers are stranded adding to the food problem which is daily becoming more acute.—Reuter.

U. S. SHIPPING STRIKE

Transport Paralysed And Tourist Trade Severely Hit

HONOLULU, Nov. 10.

The United State's shipping strike continues to paralyse shipping transport here. The tourist trade has been severely hit. It is estimated that the strike already has cost Hawaii £100,000. Seven steamers have at present been immobilised.

Despite the orders from Union leaders in San Francisco, asking the strikers to resume, the strikers refuse to comply in the hope of obtaining the recognition for the local long shoremen.

In the meanwhile, 600 passengers are stranded, adding to the food problem, which is daily becoming more acute.

CONGRESS WINS 21 SEATS

Ahmedabad Municipal Election Result

AHMEDABAD, Nov. 10.

The results of the City Municipal election announced to-night show that the Congress Party has secured altogether 21 seats, while the independents have won 14 seats. Of the successful Congress candidates, five are nominees of the Labour Association, including Messrs. Gulzarilal Nanda and Desai, its Secretaries.—A.P.

Sinews For Congress Victory At Polls

Tackle Money Problem Before Launching Campaign

BOMBAY: November 10.

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, President, All-India Congress Parliamentary Committee, has issued the following statement to the Press:

"The period fixed for the collection of funds required for the election campaign, commences on the 16th November. There are only a few days in-between, and all Provincial organisations should now complete its preparation, so as to be able to start work from the morning of the 16th November, 1936.

Vague Appeals Won't Do

Mere vague propaganda or appeals from leaders will not help. There is plenty of general sympathy for the Congress, and all are anxious to see that it comes out victorious in this campaign. One of the important things required for such success is money. Every Congress Committee is in need of it, and unless we make proper arrangements from now, we might at some critical moment lose a winning game.

Tackle Money Question

The work of selection of Congress candidates will be completed in almost all Provinces by the 15th, and the next important work of providing for the expenses required till the end of the campaign should now be tackled.

ORGANISE COLLECTION WORK

We have appealed to the Nation and we have every confidence that it will meet with generous response. The Provincial organisations must, however, set up a proper machinery for approaching the people in their respective areas, and a systematic attempt should be made to complete the task within the fixed period. Every District Congress Committee should formulate its budget and enrol responsible volunteers amongst whom the responsibility of collecting such amount should be distributed. Each volunteer should be entrusted with the task of collecting a fixed quota, so that, by the end of this month, our work in this direction may be completed.

We shall then be able to safely start a systematic, vigorous and effective all-India campaign from the 1st of December, 1936, till the end of these elections, with full confidence of complete success."—United Press.

NO ONE FAVOURED HIS NOMINATION

Sardar Explains Why Nimbkar Was Dropped

BOMBAY, Nov. 10.

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, President of the All-India Congress Parliamentary Committee, has made the following statement:—

The report about the differences in the Bombay City Congress Parliamentary Committee regarding the rejection of Mr. Nimbkar's application to be selected as a Congress candidate for the E and F Wards of the City is wholly false. The Committee unanimously agreed on the 27th October last that Mr. Nimbkar could not be selected.

AGAINST POLICY

It is against the declared policy of the Parliamentary Committee to disclose reasons for the rejection of any candidate. It is enough to say that nobody was in favour of Mr. Nimbkar's selection. The result was that the case of Mr. Jinabhai P. Joshi, the remaining applicant for the constituency, alone remained to be considered.

MANIBEN'S "NO"

The matter was thereafter placed before the Parliamentary Committee on the 28th October and it was referred back to the local Parliamentary Committee agreeing with its suggestion that Mrs. Maniben Muljee, who was the President of the T. U. C. last year, might be selected if Mr. Jinabhai Joshi withdrew in her favour.

UNANIMOUS SELECTION

But as she definitely declined to stand for this constituency or even to secure a panel of men from the T. U. C. the Board unanimously selected Mr. Jinabhai P. Joshi, one of the oldest Congressmen in the City who, by service and sacrifice, was justly popular in this constituency, among all the communities.

REGRETTABLE

It is to be regretted that the T. U. C. should have taken an attitude of imposing their choice on the Parliamentary Committee without giving it any opportunity for free selection.—A. P.

CLAIM LODGED AT KING'S BENCH

Trainer And His Highness To Give Evidence To-day

(SPECIAL CABLE)

LONDON: Nov. 10.

The sale of the Aga Khan's 1930 Derby winner, "Blenheim" for £45,000 is the subject of litigation at the King's Bench.

THE NEGOTIATIONS.

The negotiations began at the end of 1935 for the sale to American purchasers for £40,000 at the end of the season or £45,000 if immediately through the plaintiffs, Dale Dabiel, who claim commission or damages. These negotiations had not concluded by the time "Mahmoud," sired by "Blenheim" won the 1936 Derby.

SALE ARRANGED.

The sale was ultimately arranged to the American purchasers for £45,000 net in respect of which the plaintiffs' claim against the Aga Khan is now lodged. It was stated that in addition to £45,000 the Aga Khan received very substantial fees.

CONTROVERSIAL POINT.

The controversial point relates to the increased value of "Blenheim" after "Mahmoud" had won. Trainer Attv Persse will give evidence on this to-morrow for the Aga Khan, who will also give evidence.

PRESIDENT IN UTKAL

"Establish Panchayat Raj By Wiping Out Poverty And Unemployment"

CUTTACK, Nov. 10.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru arrived at Jagatpur Station this morning by the Madras Mail and was received at the station by Pandit Nilkanthdas, President, and Bhagirathi Mahapatra, Secretary of the Utkal Provincial Congress Committee. As Panditji alighted from the train, Pandit Nilkanthdas garlanded him.

"PANCHAYAT RAJ."

"Our fight is not to replace English Domination by Hindusthani, but to establish "Panchayat Raj" of India, in which there will be complete control of the peasantry and workers, so that poverty and unemployment which are now seen in every corner of the country may be wiped out. You should organise Kisan Sabhas and Congress Committees to face the oppression of Zamindars and the Government, as also to solve your own problem. Utkal is the poorest of all provinces in India, and I see in your faces misery and poverty more than what I have seen in other provinces of India", observed Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru addressing a huge public meeting held this morning at Salipur, on his way to Cuttack.

Panditji has already covered 72 miles, addressing four public meetings on his way. He has now proceeded to Jagatsinghpur on the other side of Mahanadi River. Pandit Nilkantha Das and other Congressmen are accompanying him.—United Press.

BOMB BURSTS IN BRITISH EMBASSY IN MADRID

REBEL ENDEAVOUR TO FORCE OPENINGS INTO CITY

(Special Cable)

LONDON, Nov. 11.

Madrid was heavily bombarded this morning. It is learned in London that shells are falling on principal thoroughfares. The British and American Club has been badly damaged. A bomb burst over the garden of the British Embassy. Thirteen are believed to have been killed and 322 injured yesterday.

HEAVY BOMBARDMENT BY REBEL 'PLANES

MADRID, Nov. 10.

The Government militia defending Casadelcampo, west of Manzanares river, have been encircled and are not likely to resist much longer.

Insurgent 'planes are heavily bombarding their trenches and fortified buildings. Insurgent tanks, are now advancing in an endeavour to force openings into the city through which the infantry can attack. They are progressing cautiously evidently fearing mines.—Reuter.

REBELS MAKE LITTLE ADVANCE

CUATROVIENTOS, Nov. 9.

The close of the third day of the battle for Madrid, in which the defenders have been subjected to the hottest day-long air and artillery bombardment hitherto, left the Insurgents on the advance at some points, but they are still west of the Manzanares River and not yet inside the city.

Government resistance continued to be stubborn, despite fearful pounding from high explosives during a most confused action on a ragged front.

So, though Government troops still hold many positions this side of the river, in other sectors, they have already retreated to the factory buildings on the other side, from where they will try to make it impossible for the Insurgents to cross.—Reuter.

REBEL COMMANDER RECOVERING

LISBON, Nov. 9.

Colonel Castejon, Commander of one of the insurgent columns attacking Madrid, who was reported to be shot and wounded, is stated to be recovering.—Reuter.

AGA KHAN PLEADS FOR WORLD CULTURE

What Europe Has To Learn From Eastern Philosophy

LONDON, Nov. 9.

An appeal to study Asiatic culture was urged by the Aga Khan, addressing the Iran Society on Hafiz, the famous Persian poet.

In these days, said Aga Khan, intensive nationalism that wished to turn even beauty and goodness into national possessions, was a lesson of Iran to be forgotten.

To-day, there were classes and races threatening to submerge, forever, the highest joy of life and living,—search for goodness, truth and beauty.

The Aga Khan appealed to the intellectual classes of Britain to help forward the study and understanding of Islamic, Hindu and Far Eastern philosophy, culture, literature and art.

The culture of Great Britain and America should not merely be derived from Greek and Judaism, but from the world as a whole.—Reuter.

Punjab Follows Bengal

Congress And Nationalists To Fight Elections On Common Plaform

LAHORE, Nov. 10.

After protracted deliberations, complete agreement has been reached between the Punjab Congress Parliamentary Board and the Punjab Nationalist Parliamentary Board on the question of fighting the forthcoming elections on a common platform.

A joint statement issued to-night states that there will be full co-operation between the parties who have decided to pool their resources and stand shoulder to shoulder against reactionaries in the forthcoming Assembly elections.—A.P.

CONGRESS SOCIALIST BOUND OVER

MADRAS, Nov. 10.

Mr. Abbas Ali, Chief Presidency Magistrate, delivered judgment today in the case in which P. Ramamurthy, a member of the Congress Socialist Party, was called upon to show cause why security proceedings under Sec. 108 Cr. P. C. should not be started against him in connection with the speeches he delivered in the City. His worship found that the speeches were likely to bring into hatred the Government established in British India and directed the accused to enter into a bond for Rs. 5,000 to be of good behaviour for a year and to furnish two securities in a like amount. Mrs. Rukmani Lakshmipathi, Vice-President, Tamil Nad Congress Committee and Mr. N. S. Varadachari, stood sureties.—A. P.

GEORGE JOSEPH IN BOMBAY

BOMBAY, Nov. 10.

Mr. George Joseph, the Madras Congress leader, arrived in Bombay this morning by the Madras Mail on a short visit. It is understood that Mr. Joseph has come to Bombay on a special mission in connection with the Congress Parliamentary work in South India and the coming elections. He met Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel this evening and discussed matters pertaining to the coming elections in South India. He will meet Mr. Bhulabhai Desai the leader of Opposition in the Assembly to-morrow.—United Press.

Plan For Construction Of Gym. Pavilion At Naigaum Approved

Will Govt. Reserve Large Plot For Parking Of Cars At Church Gate Stadium?

The Municipal Corporation passed a resolution on Tuesday requesting Government to reserve a large plot for parking cars near the Stadium at Church Gate Reclamation. They also approved the plans and estimates amounting to Rs. 31,000 for the construction of a Gymkhana Pavilion for the Seth Gordhandas Sunderdas Medical College on the play ground at Naigaum.

FOR 5,000 CARS

Mr. Mohanlal M. Desai moved that in view of the fact that the Stadium which is being constructed near the Church Gate Railway Station on the Back Bay Reclamation grounds is likely to accommodate nearly 50,000 spectators, the Government of Bombay be requested not to dispose of but to reserve a sufficiently large area in the vicinity for parking nearly 5,000 cars.

Mr. R. K. Vaidya seconded the proposition.

Sir J. B. Boman Behram suggested for the deletion of the words "5,000" from the resolution and put down adequate number of cars instead.

Mr. Mohanlal Desai accepted the suggestion and modified the resolution accordingly.

AMENDMENT LOST

Rao Bahadur S. K. Bole moved an amendment not to allow parking near Stadium and to charge a small fee to those who park their cars

The amendment was put to vote and declared lost. The original proposition was carried.

A GYMKHANA PAVILION

The House then considered the Works Committee's report to approve the plans and estimates amounting to Rs. 31,000 for the construction of a Gymkhana Pavilion for the Seth Gordhandas Sunderdas Medical College at Naigaum. The report stated:

The need of providing a pavilion for the College Gymkhana has been acutely felt for many years. Moreover under the terms of the affiliation of the College to the University of Bombay it is necessary as per Section 39(c) of the Bombay University Act, to make proper and adequate arrangements for the physical welfare of students. Their number on the roll of the College has now gone up to 463. It is thus all the more necessary to provide adequate facilities for such a large number of students in the way of sports and games.

The necessity for providing the pavilion has been further enhanced on account of the recent policy adopted by the University of some measure of compulsory physical training for the students in the first two years of their College career in Arts, Science and Medical colleges.

Mr. B. N. Karanjia moved for the approval of the report which was agreed to.

HOUSES OF WORSHIP

At the question time Mr. Mathooradas Tricumji asked the Municipal Commissioner to state

(a) The number of new buildings constructed in the City during each of the last three years for use as places of worship.

(b) The groups in which these buildings can be divided according to their religious denominations and the number in each of the groups.

The Commissioner:—

(a) and (b) The required information is as under:—

SANGEET'S "CALL OF THE SOUL"

Jaddanbai's Triumphant Presentation

Since the ugly clouds of communal disturbance are still hovering over the City of Bombay, and the confidence that both the communities were gradually gaining, has been again shattered, it has to be announced with the greatest reluctance that "Call Of The Soul" or "Hridaya Manthan", Bai Jaddanbai's triumphant Socio-Religious musical hit of the year will not be released on Saturday. the 14th November, 1936 at the Cinema Majestic, Girgaum.

No sooner the mutual confidence between both the communities is satisfactorily established and restored than the release date of the picture will be announced. This is to be hoped that the lovers of Jaddanbai's divine music and Sangeet's commendable productions will very kindly excuse for this unavoidable postponement.

Congress Representation From Mahakosal

PROSPECTUS

The Company has been formed for the purposes mentioned in the Memorandum of Association and primarily to purchase as a going concern the business carried on by Mr. S. K. Patil under the firm name of Associated Advertisers as printers and advertisers, etc., upon terms and conditions mentioned in the draft agreement referred to in the Memorandum and to continue, extend and develop the said business and to do the businesses as printers, publishers, advertisers, etc., mentioned in the Memorandum of Association.

Mr. S. K. Patil has decided that the Company be formed because he finds that the time has now arrived when the said business should be developed to the full capacity to which it is possible to develop it with the latest machinery, equipment and capital. The said business was started a year and a half ago. It took about a year to organise it and put it on a proper footing by equipment of further machinery and it is only about six months past that, though greatly handicapped for want of full machinery and equipment the business done has been of the approximate value of Rs. 60,000. Mr. Patil further finds that taking into account the business which has been promised from many prominent firms in Bombay and other business organizations, the possibilities of the expansion of the business are very vast and if further machinery and equipment are provided and working capital made available the business would reach the height which it is capable of reaching. Having regard to the definite promises which Mr. Patil has received from a number of business concerns and the normal business which a press of this equipment always gets, the value of the annual business done would reach about Rs. 2,50,000 within a reasonably short time and would ultimately reach Rs. 5,00,000 to 6,00,000. Work is pouring in and if new machinery was installed and press was further equipped and more working capital be provided for, the press would be second to none in India and the colour-print and process departments could cope with the very large demand there is for this class of work. The value of advertisement and publicity is being increasingly appreciated in India and there is an immense scope for a fully equipped printing and art press. The assurances of support which Mr. Patil has received will fully justify his expectation that there will be work which he is now unable to undertake for want of machinery and other equipment. Further immediately the equipment is sufficient there will be enough work to turn out and he has therefore decided to convert his firm into a limited company and for that reason the present Company has been formed.

On a conservative estimate, in due course, when installation of machinery, equipment, etc., have been completed it will not be too much to expect that the annual profit would be 15 per cent. in the least. The profits should increase as output increases because with the same overhead charges the output will multiply with the extension in machinery and hands. The capital to be called up is Rupees three lacs out of which fully paid up shares of the face value of Rs. 1,20,000 will be offered to Mr. S. K. Patil as the purchase price. Out of the balance of Rs. 1,80,000 after providing for preliminary expenses, underwriting commission and new machinery which it is estimated will cost Rupees one lac and twenty thousand, there would be left Rs. 48,000 which with the stock in hand and outstandings would be ample working capital.

The business which the Company is to purchase and take over from Mr. S. K. Patil includes machinery which has been valued at Rs. 60,000, book debts considered good amounting to Rs. 16,000, and a large stock of colour and ordinary blocks, press furniture, steel stands and galleys, office furniture and stationery, paper, ink, lino metal, fittings, etc., the price of which has been fixed at Rs. 29,000, and Rs. 15,000 for goodwill. The fact that Mr. Patil accepts the price of all this in the shares of the Company will abundantly prove his confidence in the success of the business. The Company has not undertaken the liabilities of the old concern which are to be paid by Mr. Patil and the price of Rs. 1,20,000 to be paid to him should be considered very reasonable. Mr. Patil has agreed to accept the appointment as Managing Director of the Company for the term and on the remuneration and with powers and authorities hereinafter mentioned. The Company will have thus the benefit of Mr. Patil's experience, influence and conduct of the business

A copy of the Memorandum of Association of the Company with the names and respective addresses of the subscribers is printed in the fold of this Prospectus and forms part of it.

The following are the provisions of the Company's Articles relating to the share qualifications and remuneration of Directors:—

The qualification of a Director other than an Ex-officio or a Special Director shall be the holding of 100 shares in the Company of the nominal value of Rs. 10 each. A Director may act before acquiring his qualification but must acquire the same within two months after his appointment or election.

The remuneration of every Director shall be such sum not exceeding Rs. 30 and that of the Chairman of the Board of Directors shall be such sum not exceeding Rs. 45 as the Directors may from time to time decide for every meeting of the Board attended by him. The Directors may from time to time fix such remuneration as may be necessary and payable in such manner as they may think proper to any member or members of their body constituting a committee appointed by the Directors and pay the same.

If any, Director being willing, shall be called upon to perform extra service (which expression shall include work to be done by a Director as a member of any Committee appointed by the Directors or in relation to signing share certificate or debentures or attending to the business of the Company or any part or department thereof) or to make any special exertions in going or residing out of Bombay, or otherwise, for any of the purposes of the Company, the Company shall remunerate the Directors by such further sum as may be determined by the Directors and such remuneration may be either in addition to, or in substitution for his or their share in the remuneration above provided and the Directors shall be entitled to be repaid any travelling or other expenses incurred in connection with the business of the Company.

Mr. S. K. Patil shall be the Managing Director of the Company and shall hold such office for fifteen years from the date of registration of the Company and for such further period thereafter as may be agreed to between him and the Directors of the Company or until he of his free will resign, or until he is removed as provided in the draft agreement hereinafter referred to on a remuneration of Rupees five hundred per month and five per cent of the nett profits of the Company or such higher remuneration after five years after incorporation of the Company as may be agreed to by the Directors.

The preliminary expenses of the Company are estimated at Rs. 7,500.

The minimum subscription upon which the Directors may proceed to allotment is fifty per cent. of the shares offered to the public for subscription. The shares offered for subscription have however been underwritten and no question of minimum subscription should, therefore, arise.

The following contracts, or agreements will be made that is to say:—

1. A contract between the Company of the one part and the Investors' Advisory Bureau whereby the 18,000 shares offered to the public for subscription have been underwritten by the said Investors' Advisory Bureau at the underwriting commission of 2½ per cent. of the nominal value of the said 18,000 shares.

2. An agreement between the said Mr. S. K. Patil for sale and assignment of his said business of Associated Advertisers including the assets of the said business the goodwill thereof and the benefit of subsisting contracts, outstandings and book debts at or for the price or Rs. 1,20,000 to be paid to the said Mr. S. K. Patil in fully paid up shares of the Company.

3. An agreement between the Company and the said Mr. S. K. Patil for his appointment as a Managing Director of the Company upon the terms aforesaid.

Mr. S. K. Patil is interested as the Vendor of his business to the Company as aforesaid and also by reason of the fact he is to be appointed Managing Director of the Company as aforesaid.

The copies of the draft of the abovementioned contracts and agreements and the letters received by Mr. S. K. Patil from some of the leading firms and individuals promising work and copies of the Company's Memorandum and Articles of Association may be inspected at the Registered Office of the Company during usual business hours.

Applications for shares should be made on the accompanying form and sent to the Registered Office of the Company together with a remittance for the amount payable on application. Applications for less than 25 shares will not be considered. When no allotment is made the deposit will be returned in full and where the number of shares allotted is less than the number applied for, so much of the balance of the deposit money as will be necessary will be appropriated towards the allotment money and if there be any surplus the same will be returned Failure to pay any future instalments on shares allotted when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture.

Copies of the Prospectus and the forms of application can be obtained at the Registered Office of the Company at 168, Girgaon Road, Bombay No. 4 and at the office of Messrs. Raghavayya Nagindas and Co., Solicitors of the Company, at their office at 94, Medows Street, Fort, Bombay, or at the office of the Investors' Advisory Bureau at Bombay Mutual Building, Hornby Road Fort, Bombay.

LEWIS RETAINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Wembley Crowd Boos As Decision Goes Against Len Harvey

LONDON, Nov. 9.

John Henry Lewis, world light-heavyweight champion, retained his title against Len Harvey at Wembley on Monday.

Lewis, it will be recalled, has been suspended by the District Columbia Boxing Commission for failure to appear at a bout in Washington on October 13.

DETAILS OF FIGHT

At the Wembley Empire Stadium before an attendance of 12,000, in the 15-round contest for the World's Light Heavyweight Championship, John Henry Lewis, holder, defeated Len Harvey on points.

Len Harvey weighed 12 stone 4 lbs. and Lewis 12 stone 5 1|2 lbs. The latter protected very closely his left eye which was injured during training. The Englishman boxed confidently throughout.

Lewis was several times warned for holding infringements in the early rounds.

Harvey was warned when. after the referee had spoken to both men, he lashed out at Lewis.

Harvey at first concentrated his attack on his opponent's head causing attention to be given between the rounds to Lewis's eye. Later he directed his attacks to the body crashing in with rights and lefts. Lewis several times missed right swings but was slightly quicker at close quarters.

Harvey was superb in his defence and outboxed the American in the eighth round when the latter tried to knock him out for the count. The tenth and eleventh rounds were tedious and were fought at very close range.

The best fighting was witnessed in the last two rounds. Both the boxers in the 14th round stood toe to toe and fought at a terrific pace. In the last round Harvey landed his right with a stinging thud. Lewis staggered and appeared to be badly dazed. Harvey continued his punishment with lefts and rights to the head.

The verdict was announced amid considerable booing.—Reuter.

Guard Your Dog's HEALTH

Too much meat means too much heat for your dog's blood. And especially in a hot climate this causes him "torture" through continual scratching, lack of appetite, moodiness, irritability and loss of energy You can remedy the trouble by cutting down his meat supply and substituting LACTOL. A daily drink means daily health for your dog—the health that brings keen appetite, perfect coat, revelling spirits and abundant energy. For rearing puppies and for the feeding and strengthening of sick or aged dogs or nursing bitches LACTOL is supreme.

ALLEGED ENTICEMENT

Case Against Sound Recordist Postponed To Jan. 19

The case of a sound recordist of the Film city, Prem N. Arora who stand charged with enticing away a married woman, a Film Star of the Golden Eagle Cinema Company and wife of the Director of the said company, came up for hearing at the Dadar Court on Tuesday. Several film artists came to witness the trial, the first of its kind in the annals of Film Industry in this country.
But to the disappointment of the film artists who packed the Court the case was adjourned owing to pressure of work.
Mr. M. N. Talpade, Counsel for the accused represented to the Court that the case might be expedited in the interests of his client as it had already got into the daily papers.
The Magistrate, however, posted the case to January 19, for hearing.

Suit Against Mahajan Association

ALLEGED ILLEGAL SUSPENSION OF MEMBER

An article published in the "Bombay Sentinel" led to the suspension by the Mahajan Association of one of its members, Lavidas Murlidhar Mehta, who has now filed a suit in the High Court against the Association.
In connection with this suit, the plaintiff took out a notice of motion for an 'interim' injunction to restrain the Directors of the Association from enforcing their resolution against the plaintiff.
The notice of motion came on for hearing before Mr. Justice B. J. Wadia on Tuesday.
Mr. Lalji, instructed by Kanga and Co., appeared for the plaintiff, Sir Jamshed Kanga, instructed by Chhotalal and Khandwala, appeared for the defendants.

FACTS OF THE CASE

The case arose out of an article published in the "Bombay Sentinel" of May 30, 1936, in which it was alleged that the plaintiff was carrying on business of 'Sutta Khel' in the premises of the Association. After publication of the article the Association called upon the plaintiff to attend an urgent meeting of the Directors and to explain to them as to what he had to say regarding the allegation published in the "Sentinel." Accordingly, he attended the meeting and explained that the allegations were untrue and unfounded.
The plaintiff stated that inspite of his explanation the Directors passed a resolution to the effect that the plaintiff should prosecute Mr. B. G. Horniman, Editor of the "Bombay Sentinel" and also the Printers and Publishers of the paper or bring a civil suit against them for damages for defamation and that if the plaintiff failed to do so, the Board would assume the allegations to be true and take steps against the plaintiff in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Association. Thereafter on September 11, the plaintiff was informed that as he had failed to take legal proceedings against the "Bombay Sentinel," the Directors of the Association had reason to believe that the allegations made against him were true and accordingly had resolved that the plaintiff's conduct was improper and they had suspended him for three days. The plaintiff was further informed that he was given one month's time more to take legal proceedings against the paper and that on failure to do so, more severe steps would be taken against him.
The plaintiff however did nothing in the matter. The Directors therefore by their resolution of October 31, 1936, suspended him for five days more and fined him Rs. 51.
The plaintiff submitted that he was under no obligation to take any proceedings against the paper and that both the resolutions of the Directors were illegal, and that the defendants had no power to punish him twice for the same offence or to suspend him from membership merely on the allegations in the "Sentinel." By reason of his wrongful suspension he had suffered damages and injury.

THE DEFENCE

The suit was contested by the defendants who stated that the article in the "Sentinel" of May 30 contained serious allegations against the plaintiff to the effect that he was the 'de facto' king of 'Sutta Khel' and that he was using the premises of the Association for such gambling transaction. As the name of the Association was thus mentioned in connection with the plaintiff, the Board o Directors had to take steps against him for the protection of the Association. As the plaintiff had failed to give adequate explanation regarding the allegations and as he was openly impuned by the paper, the Directors considered it necessary that the plaintiff should take legal proceedings against the paper in order to vindicate himself. As however the plaintiff has not taken any such proceedings, the Directors submitted that they were justified in taking disciplinary action against him.
When the notice of motion came up for hearing, the defendants undertook not to enforce the fine against the plaintiff. His Lordship therefore made no order on the notice of motion and directed that the suit be fixed for hearing on January 21, 1937.

TALK OF THE SUBURBS

(By: A SUBURBAN MAN)

HIGH SCHOOL FOR BASSEIN.

Some time back I wrote about education in Bassein, and referred to the want of sufficient number of Catholic institutions.
Bassein has now a high school, which was only opened on Sunday, November 8.
The opening ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. C. Ghezzi, Administrator of the Archdiocese of Bombay.
After the opening ceremony several speakers spoke on the growing necessity for elementary education in the outlying districts of the Bassein area. It was pointed out how parents had to undergo extra expenditure in sending their children to Bombay or Bandra and how they were robbed of their play time in travelling.
This high school, The Thomas Baptista High School is situated in Papdi and owes its progress to the late Archbishop of Bombay, who took personal interest and saw it through different stages as its popularity increased and now it has at last acquired in the status of a High School.
The Administrator after the opening ceremony took this opportunity to visit various Catholic Churches in Bassein where he was given full-hearted welcome.
As I had written before, I once more repeat that Bassein has a wide scope for education, if only the rich would come forward and offer their support.

CASE AGAINST BANK AUDITORS

Shamdasani's Plea For Production And Inspection Of Books

Characterising the interpretation of some of the authorities cited by Mr. S. G. Velinker, as the "prostitution of authorities", Mr. P. D. Shamdasani at the resumed hearing of the case against the auditors and accountants of the Central Bank before Mr. I. S. Haji, Presidency Magistrate, Masagaon, on Tuesday, said that the argument referring to the powers conferred by special statutes be exercised within a reasonable time had no application to the point at issue.
Mr. Shamdasani contended that the books produced in the court were for inspection and that they contained relevant entries to prove the case for the Prosecution. The secondary evidence like that of certified copies instead of primary evidence was asked for, he added, and that any special law could not be made interdependent on the application he made for the production of the Bank's books under section 94 of the Cr. P. Code.
In the above case Sir Hugh Folding Cocke, Sir Shapoorji Billimoria and two others partners in the firm of Messrs. Fergusson and Co., and Messrs. Billimoria and Co., Auditors and Accountants of the Central Bank are charged at the instance of Mr. Shamdasani, a shareholder of the Bank for issuing a false Balance Sheet with a report appended to it where false statements were alleged to have been made wilfully and knowingly.

51 HEARINGS.

The applicant stated that they had taken 51 hearings and that no less than 30 hearings were occupied by the Court to dispose of the application made by him on December 5 last for the production books in the court.
It was morally and legally binding on the witness, that was the Bank in the case, Mr. Shamdasani contended, not to conceal evidence, nor to obstruct and impede fair administration of justice.
With regard to the argument advanced by the learned counsel for the Bank that the present case was a second edition of a previous one, he pointed out by citing what he regarded as the false figures in the Balance-Sheet that the previous case was in respect of items of debts considered doubtful to the tune of Rs. 5 lakhs and by implication debts considered bad nil. While conceding that there was a common item in either case, Mr. Shamdasani asserted that this was of a different kind. That resulted, he added, in the conviction and sentence of jail against the Managing Director and the other accused. The counsel for the Bank, he said, had not the frankness to admit it.
If the books contained evidence against the accused and if that evidence had to be brought out, how else could that evidence be brought out, Mr. Shamdasani asked.
If the court were to refuse inspection of books, he observed, then it would be denying itself the opportunity of getting at the material evidence to prove the case for the Prosecution.
Further hearing of the case was postponed to November 12.
Mr. Shamdasani appeared in person while the Bank was defended by Mr. S. G. Velinker.

What Happened To Cricket Enquiry?

It was more than a month ago that the Beaumont Committee was set up by the President of the Board of Cricket Control in India to enquire into the failure of the Indian cricket tour in England. There was some feverish activity, immediately on the arrival of the members of the Indian team in Bombay. The way that Sir John Beaumont, the Chairman of the Committee, set about doing things one felt that things were moving in the right direction. It was expected and semi-officially confirmed that the two members of the Committee, Sir John Beaumont and Dr. Subbarayon—the other member Sir Sikandar Hyat Khan having resigned from the membership of the Committee—would meet at an early date and go through the evidence recorded by Sir John and submit their report to the Board of Cricket Control. The Indian players have come and gone to their respective places but nothing seems to have happened beyond the taking down of the evidence of the majority of the members of the Indian team. The Quadrangular contest—the premier Cricket festival in the country—is only a month ahead. People are already discussing the prospects of the different teams; but they have not forgotten that the Enquiry Committee is yet to submit its findings to the Board of Cricket Control. They are anxious to know what has happened to the enquiry Committee.

Chances In The Quadrangular

With only a month ahead, speculation is rife in cricket circles as to who would don the caps and get on to the field on behalf of the four different teams. The champions of the last two years, the Muslims, have still among them players, who easily make the best eleven compared to the asset of the three other sides, three other teams. The Parsis and the Europeans, who were considered to be the weaker teams, are bucking up. What with the coaching that has been going on and the new talent that has been discovered, the Parsis can put on the field a very good team which can easily challenge and luck obliging can easily beat the three other teams. The Europeans, who have been considered as the weakest side that has entered the Azad Maidan for the last many years, are confident of putting up a tough fight this time. Apart from the good players who have been playing for the Europeans all these days, it is expected that the English and Australian professionals, who are in India will also play for the Europeans in the Quadrangular. If that does happen, then the Quadrangular contest this year will be well worth watching with greater interest then ever before, because the contest will be even. The Hindus have been lacking the very primary thing which has been an —team spirit. That contributed a great deal towards their failure in previous years. The Hindus do not lack talent. They have got eleven men amongst them, who can face any international eleven. The absence of the Nayudu brothers is regrettable. Apart from that if the Hindu eleven try and pull together at least during the Quadrangular contest, it can be confidently stated that they, after all, might become the champions next year. But will they do so? There are enough signs that they will.

GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

Of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru's visit to Bengal it might be said with much truth that "he came, he saw, he conquered." Those who feel it is too big a compliment should carefully consider the position in Bengal with regard to the Congress before the visit and the position now. For a pretty long time past the harassed people of Bengal sorely felt that the Congress neglected, or at any rate inadequately appreciated, their sufferings and that in the higher command they were not given the status due to them for their services and sacrifices in the national struggle for freedom. Whether or not there was ground for such a grievance, the grievance was there, and for this reason and several others Congress influence in the province seemed to be on the wane. Else it would have been impossible for the entire Provincial Congress Committee to take up a clearly defiant attitude against the Congress Election Manifesto in respect of the Communal Decision. That attitude might at any time have led to a serious revolt against the Congress, with its almost certain repercussions in other provinces. That was the position just before the President's visit. But his intense loyalty to the Congress infected the people of Calcutta who gave him, as President of the Congress, a magnificent reception the spontaneity of which kings might envy. He completed the conquest by his statesman-like solution of the "Award" problem and the scenes that then followed were the loyalist rally round the Congress banner.

The Secret

What is the secret of this phenomenal achievement? It is certainly not a mere stroke of diplomacy. The achievement in Bengal, as in the country as a whole, is due first and foremost to his irrepressible passion for justice and humanity, which has that touch of nature about it that makes the whole world kin, that leads millions to turn to him as their tribune. He has also a genius to concentrate his own attention, as also the attention of others, on essential problems. He thus sees the problem of Indian freedom in its true perspective and helps all those who come in contact with him to view it likewise. The people of Bengal gave too much attention to one particular detail of the new Constitution, viz., the Communal Decision, till it nearly obsessed their minds. Pandit Jawaharlal could not deny their objections to that wretched apple of discord. But he enabled them to view it as such, to realise the danger of concentrating attention on it, and to divert attention to the larger problem of national deliverance. He won over millions to his view. And he will make many more converts ere long.

First Thing First

The Press interviews that pandit Jawaharlal gave on the conclusion of his visit to Calcutta bring out clearly some notable facts about Bengal politics of great value to India as a whole. "Not all the repression and suppression that Bengal has had to put up with," he said in one of these interviews, "has damped the spirit of the people or made them waver in their passion for freedom. This unquenchable spirit of hers shines brightly through all their torment and suffering. That spirit will conquer." It is, indeed, a redeeming feature of repression everywhere that men's sufferings bring out all the latent forces of moral resistance in them and lead them to make a grim resolve to end their sufferings for good and all. A nation's tribulations in the struggle for a righteous cause cannot go in vain. But, Pandit Jawaharlal does well to add that the struggle will lead to early and full success only if we always remember that "the first thing must always come first and the first thing in India is Indian freedom and the appalling poverty of the Indian masses." India can confidently trust leaders like Pandit Jawaharlal to concentrate all national energies and resources on the first and foremost task of emancipating her from political and economic bondage.

Peace And War

Eighteen years ago, to-day, an Armistice was signed somewhere in the forests of France by representatives of "civilized" nations of Europe. The avowed object was to end war, which had raged for over four years and cost the world millions of lives, untold suffering to countless families, the destruction of whole cities and acute economic distress over a large part of the globe. Optimists hoped that the last shot had been fired and "the war to end war" dictum fully vindicated. On November 11, 1918, a war-weary world looked forward to the dawn of Peace. As one looks back to-day over the eighteen years that we have been celebrating the Armistice, one regards that optimism with indulgent pity. The world is no nearer Peace to-day than it was in 1914. A mad race for rearmament and the activities of Jingoes all over Europe may, in fact, throw it into the vortex of yet another Armaggedon. The same atmosphere of violence, of national and racial animosity, has the nations in its grip. The same old spirit of recklessness characterises the utterances of war-lords and dictators. The bloody traffic in arms, ammunition and poison-gas goes on at a merry pace. The violation of Abyssinian independence by Mussolini's black-shirted hordes and the spoliation of Spain by Franco's rebels, not to mention the persistent aggression of China by Japan are all manifestations of the jungle law of violence once again ruling the destinies of man. The miserable failure of the League of Nations to keep these elements in check and its shameful and repeated betrayal of its own Covenants have taken away even the last vestige of hope. In this ominous and grim atmosphere the celebration of Armistice is a mock performance. The two-minutes' silence to-day should be an occasion for a thought of the future rather than memories of the past.

While the armies of the world will go back from the Armistice parades to-day to preparations for another war against a yet unspecified enemy, the occasion will also be marked by popular demonstrations to declare the people's determination not to provide cannon-fodder for the war-makers of the world. In countries where it is possible, pacifist and anti-Imperialist organisations would join in a protest against the elements which are responsible for war. The consciousness is growing that the last War—in fact, every war—was a futile mass slaughter of millions of citizens, who had no ill-will against one another, but who died trying to kill each other. They were the victims of the ambition and lust of a few politicians, armament-makers, jingoes and militarists. The only way to guard against the possibility of another war is the organisation of the people of the world for peaceful resistance and the propagation of the idea of Peace. To India, which suffered the loss of thousands of her sons in the last War, the Armistice Day has only one significance. It is a reminder of the betrayal by Britain of the pledges given to her during the War. Instinctively, too, Indians have an abhorrence for war. We celebrate it as an Anti-War Day.

FROM ACROSS THE SEAS

Gleanings From The World Press

(By Our London Correspondent.)

The Trade Union Congress is going into the theatrical business, with Dame Sybil Thorndyke as its leading lady.

The General Council in London has unanimously approved a proposal to put a professional touring company on the road. It will play "Six Men of Dorset", based on the Tolpuddle Martyrs, and Mr. Bernard Shaw's famous Morroccan comedy "Captain Brassbound's Conversion". Dame Sybil Thorndyke and her husband, Lewis Casson, will play the leading parts in both plays and Mr. Barry O'Brien will manage the tour. The tour will last for three months and be confined mainly to the industrial centres. It is proposed to begin at the end of January. Every member of the cast and the stage hands will be given full trade union conditions on British Equity lines and the T.U.C. has undertaken the necessary financial guarantees.

Mr. Shaw has agreed to the arrangements so far as his play is concerned.

Mrs. Baldwin Talks Of Baldwin

Mrs. Baldwin, the wife of the Prime Minister, spoke of her husband at the annual banquet in London of the Worcestershire Association.

Mr. Baldwin, who is the President of the Association, was unable to attend, and Mrs. Baldwin expressed on his behalf his deep regret at his absence. "His real reason is so like himself", she said. "He feels that his first act should be a public one in the service of his country and not to come a-pleasuring with his friends, so, instead of coming here to-night to meet you all, he returned to public life. You, who know him, know that the Prime Minister is no machine, but a human, sympathetic, understanding being—who gives out of his inner consciousness to the uttermost. Well, nobody can do that without feeling a sense of exhaustion, and that exhaustion descended upon him this summer. But I am happy to say that I was able to see him getting rested day by day and getting his old self. One thing he wanted to do was to get away from people. I am just the shadow that is caused by the bright light in which he moves, and so I don't count as a person or personnage, but it is an enormous satisfaction to me to bring him back to London certainly looking and, I think, feeling ten years younger."

Foreign Minister On The Stage

Anthony Eden, having nothing else to do, went to the St. Martin's Theatre to see how Foreign Ministers behave—according to the rules of modern playwriting.

He sat in a box with his wife. Elizabeth Bergner, an exile from Nazidom, sat there part of the time. Marlene Dietrich was being stared at. . . . "You must take drinks to Box B," said someone in the interval "Don't you know who's in there? It's the Foreign Minister of Great Britain!" However; they did not get the drinks. Licence laws apply also to the Cabinet.

The greatest excitement, however, was the arrival of Herbert Marshall with Edna Best. "East, West, Edna Best. . . .!" This proof of domestic felicity was almost more than the two rows of pit could stand. Now, according to Geoffrey Kerr, the author, a Foreign Minister, wanting a rest after five years of stress, has to take an illness to get away to enjoy the peace of the countryside. There, he finds himself in a village war, one in which the country-folk actually use shot-guns because a few cows have wandered into the wrong field!

"The sight of your guns", advises the Foreign Minister, "will make that man give up the cows". Whether this was Eden policy or pure Duff-Cooperism, nobody can say. Anyway, Anthony Eden thoroughly enjoyed the play. Finally, when the war is stopped because someone is going to have a baby, they all turn on the Foreign Minister and say, "What's it got to do with you, anyway? We're sick of your talk." Fortunately, there was, just then another foreign crisis somewhere, and so the Foreign Secretary could go back to the comparative peace of world affairs.

Arms Will Not Save Europe

But Fascism May Bluff It Into War

By H. N. BRAILSFORD

After interminable delays, the National Council of Labour has, in a cautiously worded resolution, withdrawn its support of the British Government's policy of one-sided neutrality in Spain.

This commentator is not disposed to congratulate it with any warmth because it has done at the end of October what it should have done at the end of July.

These leaders of ours who spin out weeks in deliberating, while our Spanish comrades are fighting for life and freedom, have shown a lack of heart and courage that none of us will forget in a hurry.

What is to follow the publication of their hesitating formula? A party of any spirit would overwhelm the Government with a campaign of processions, demonstrations, and mass meetings, until this throttling blockade is broken.

When our movement was younger and braver, in 1920, it stopped by direct action the same kind of underhand intervention against Russia. The dockers stopped the export of munitions to Poland and the Whites.

To-day, any action of this sort is repudiated in advance as "unconstitutional". The respectability of this Party of ours becomes oppressive.

Russia's Move

The hopeful aspect of this situation is that the Russians, late in the day, have displayed a courage that the West lacks.

Spain lies far from the natural sphere of action of the Soviet Union. So few were the ties between the two that Russia had no ambassador in Madrid until a month ago. The number of Communists in the Spanish workers' movement is almost negligible.

It is the French, in the first place, and we in the second, who ought to have shown our solidarity with comrades at our doors who stand much nearer to us in tradition and outlook than to the Russians.

It is, none the less, to our shame that Moscow and not Paris or London has taken this risk, and taken it alone.

A furious storm of verbal abuse has broken already on her head, at a moment when (as I explained last week) her alliance with France seemed to be crumbling. In the "Observer" last week Mr. Garvin actually invited Hitler to make war on Russia.

It is not merely Fascist Europe but the normally sober conservative Europe that is being mobilised against her.

How much overtly she has yet done we do not know, but presumably she is now supplying some arms to the Spanish Government. Indeed, one infers from the better news from Madrid that her tanks and 'planes are already in use.

She has acted openly in the light of day, and no reasonable man can contend that she is bound by a pledge of neutrality which the other side has flagrantly broken.

> If she acts as her Notes to the London Committee lead us to expect, she will deserve, and she may need, all the backing that organised Labour can give her, in this country and on the Continent.

War Menace

That farcical Committee has investigated nothing, and seems to be shelving every proposal for control. Yet day after day the evidence, partly from the Spanish Government and partly from responsible journalists, accumulates.

Eye-witnesses describe the German and Italian 'planes, the Italian officers and whippet tanks which they saw at unpleasantly close quarters.

The gravest of these charges comes from Majorca. It reached me 10 days ago through a friend who has a correspondent in that island. Now the same facts and figures are published by the Spanish Government.

Here is the accusation:—

"That in these Balearic isles an expeditionary force is being equipped, probably for an attack on Barcelona:

That the infantry, running to many thousands of men, consists mainly of disguised Italian troops;

That this force has about 113 'planes, of which 100 are bombers".

Earlier evidence from English evewitnesses to much the same effect appeared in the "Manchester Guardian". If these charges are true, or even partly true, the British and French Governments, which have their Consular and naval officers in these islands, must know the facts.

Indifference on this scale is more than carelessness or weakness: it amounts to complicity.

> "If the foreign Office allows neutrality to be sabotaged in this way, one can draw only one inference. It is working (as the "Times" now openly is) for a fascist victory in Spain.

That rather than its pacifism or its timidity, is the explanation of its conduct. The propertied forces of Europe—and Downing Street is located in that Continent—have rallied in the last month for Fascism and against neutrality.

Grave Charges

But after all, the reader may ask, is there then no risk of war? There may be, if Russia is driven into isolation, and labelled, with London's complicity, as Hitler's lawful prey.

There would be none, if London, Paris and Moscow stood together.

The panic that has swept over this country in recent months would be ludicrous if it were not shameful.

Two men, who both know the facts better than most of us—Mr. Churchill and M. Litvinoff—lately called our attention to the fact that the three pacific Powers—Britain, France and Russia—are together overwhelmingly stronger than the Fascist Powers.

They have the raw materials and the economic reserves. Ours is the strongest Fleet and that of France comes next.

Russia's is by far the mightiest air force. France, with her trained reserves, has still the most formidable of European armies.

As yet the German conscript army has no trained reserve, and is admittedly short of officers. The Nazis work at a furious pace, but they cannot be ready for a major war for at least another year.

As for Italy, though she has made great advances in every branch of mechanised warfare, at sea and in the air as well as on land, the supreme talent of Mussolini is for bombast and theatrical bluff.

Arms Racket

This panic resembles others that some of us have lived through. We are treated to fantastic exaggerations of the armaments of other Powers.

Mr. Garwin even said that the Italian Navy is stronger than ours Accordingly, we re-arm on an extravagant scale.

So it was before the war. Mr Arthur Balfour, in 1909, predicted on information supplied by an armament firm, that in 1912 Germany would have 25 Dreadnaughts. In fact, she had nine.

> But, on the faith of this lie, we had built eight in a single year, and that armament firm had turned a loss of £60,000 into a profit of £250,000.

Under this cry for more arms a gigantic racket is at work, to which our Labour leaders have succumbed exactly as the Liberals did before the war.

A case for greater efficiency in the fighting services there may well be; but arms are not in this situation the first essential for defence.

Safety depends on policy. Our danger is not in any material inferiority. It lies in the inability of the pacific Powers to stand together against this Fascist policy, that seeks by its triumphant bluff first to terrorise and then to divide us.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

SIGNIFICANT ADMISSION.

He was satisfied, said Mr. R. A. Butler in the House of Commons, that all political parties in India were free to carry out their legitimate activities in the election campaign. No one ever expected him to be other than "satisfied" or to disagree in any way with the Government. But it is something to be told that the Government of India have called special attention of Government officers to the necessity for strict impartiality on their part. The fact that such special attention had to be called constitutes a significant admission, although of course one need not necessarily expect it to be effective too.

MR. BUTLER SHOCKED.

Incidentally, Mr. R. A. Butler our London correspondent reports, was rather shocked and several M. P.'s surprised when reference was made to the notorious U. P. Court of Wards circular. It is certainly a surprising document rendered more surprising by Sir Henry Craik's defence of it in the Assembly. But Mr. R. A. Butler's reaction to it makes us wonder if he had so far been really kept in ignorance of the existence of such a circular in spite of an excited debate over it in the Assembly. It would be interesting to know why Mr. Butler knew nothing about it. We hope the adjournment motion of Messrs. Morgan Jones and Sorenson will enable some light to be thrown on all this. And we do hope Reuter's correspondent will not miss the adjournment proceeding as he missed—was it mere inadvertence? —the reference to the circular the other day.

NO ANSWER!

The world of the League of Nations whose conscience, according to its pretensions, was so deeply shocked by Italian aggression against Ethiopia, has not only betrayed that country but managed to forget it too. A passionate appeal for justice to his people was made in a telegram to the League by the Negus on November 1. No notice was taken of it. "The blood of terrorised people calls for justice", pleaded the Emperor and asked: "Is a peaceful people which loves its independence and has placed its whole trust in the League of Nations to be abandoned to its aggressor and to be exterminated by poison gas and bombs?" There was no answer. There could not be any. The League of Nations, in the best traditions of contemptible cowardice, has decided to lick the feet that kicked it, the feet of the terrorist who gleefully indulged the barbarity of bombs and poison gas.

INSULT UNREDEEMED.

To the protests from various Indian Chambers of Commerce against the exclusion of Indians from the Railway Inquiry Committee the Railway Board is understood to have sent the uniform reply supporting Government's policy in the matter. That is not surprising. Vested interests combine easily and do not like their plans being disturbed by others. Moreover, blood is always thicker than water and a well-packed all-white body can alone be relied upon to tolerate the present scandalous racial preference to Europeans and Anglo-Indians in the higher Railway services, subordinating to it considerations of cost and efficiency. Indian businessmen and organisations should have nothing to do with a body from which they have been so disdainfully excluded. They will have scope enough to criticise its recommendations, unless, of course, these are hidden from the public. Meanwhile, the Legislative Assembly must strongly condemn Government's studied insult to Indians.

THE DIFFERENCE

According to information supplied by Sir Robert Reid, Home Member of the Bengal Government, there are 1,235 detenus in detention camps, 905 in "village domicile" and 249 in home internments. That is to say there are no less than 2359 young educated men and women who are suffering worse than imprisonment not because they have been adjudged guilty of any actual crime but because they are guilty of having aroused executive suspicion. The Bengal Home Member also admitted that of such unfortunate persons five committed suicide and two turned insane during the last two years. These figures speak for themselves. Nazi terrorism and Herr Hitler's concentration camps have at some stage or the other shocked and horrified the conscience of British politicians and the British Press —as also the Anglo-Indian imitators of the latter. But none of them has a word to say about what British Imperialism is itself doing.

In the summer of 1914 an Austrian Archduke was killed at a town called Serajevo, under, it was alleged, Servian auspices. To avenge that murder Austria demanded obeisances from the smaller country and failing to get complete satisfaction, decided to use force. This led directly to the killing of ten million men, who were not archdukes and, directly or indirectly, to the deaths of uncounted thousands of women and children. Four years later, when the Armistice was signed on November 11, 1918, Austria was still incompletely satisfied.....

Political Exploitation Of City Riots

CHARGE AGAINST B. P. C. C. REFUTED

Nariman Authorised To Make Congress Position Clear

In view of the fact that interested persons were making political capital out of the communal disturbances in the City and were deliberately doing so with an eye on the coming elections to the reformed Legislatures, Mr. K. F. Nariman has been authorised by the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee to issue a statement, and if necessary several statements, making the position of the Congress towards the riots perfectly clear.

The occasion when the decision was taken was the monthly meeting of the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee held on Tuesday evening at the Congress House with Mr. Khurshed F. Nariman in the chair.

Exploitation Of Riots

After the meeting had disposed off the items on the agenda, the General Secretary, Mr. S. K. Patil, made a statement to the effect that certain interested persons were making use of the communal disturbances for election purposes.

CITY CONGRESS ELECTIONS

At the outset the meeting took up the question of making the necessary arrangements with regard to the general election of delegates to the Faizpur Congress. These delegates automatically become members of the B.P.C.C. for the coming year.

Mr. S. K. Patil, General Secretary, said that the date for holding the election had been fixed to 22nd of November. But, unfortunately, the communal disturbances in the city have created a difficulty in holding these elections on that date. There were several mixed Wards, like Mandvi and 'E' Ward, where it would be difficult to carry on elections if the present state of affairs continued in the city. If the elections were to be held in spite of the disturbances, then the elections would be held null and void, even if 100 voters came forward with the plea that they could not reach the polling booth in view of the disturbed conditions. Hence the speaker suggested that elections should be held on 22nd in all the Wards excepting 'B,' 'E' and 'F' Wards. Regarding holding elections in these three Wards, the Executive should be empowered to fix the date after studying the situation in the city.

WHY NOT APPROACH A.I.C.C.

Another member observed that the difficulty that applied to the 'E' and 'E' Wards applied to the other wards also. He suggested that the whole election should be postponed. He also suggested that the B.P.C.C. should approach the A.I.C.C. Secretariat for special concession as far as election of members to the A.I.C.C. was concerned in view of the disturbed situation in Bombay.

Mr. F. R. Lole pointed out that there would be difficulty in holding elections to the A.I.C.C. if election of delegates was held only in some wards.

The suggestion of Mr. Yusuf Meherally that the B.P.C.C. should adjourn till 17th, when it could decide on the question of holding election of delegates, after reviewing the situation, was accepted and passed. The last day for receiving nominations was fixed for 17th at 6 p.m.

The House then approved of a supplementary grant of Rs. 525 for expenses to hold the elections.

PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS.

At the suggestion of Mr. S. K. Patil the House approved of the following two sub-committees for the purposes of elections to the Provincial Legislatures. These two Sub-Committees will work under the direction of a comprehensive Campaign Committee consisting of 50 or 60 members.

FINANCE SUB-COMMITTEE:—(With power to co-opt) Messrs. K. F. Nariman, K. M. Munshi, Ratilal Gandhi, Ishwarbhai Patel, S. K. Patil, Purshottam Kanji, Mrs. Hansa Mehta and two others.

PROPAGANDA SUB-COMMITTEE:—Messrs. K. F. Nariman, S. A. Brelvi, S. K. Patil, Nagindas Master; C. K. Narayanswami; Yusuf Meherally and Mrs Lilavati Munshi.

On a point raised by Mr. Yusuf Meherally, it was decided that the meeting of the fresh B.P.C.C. should be held on December 6, for drafting of resolutions for the Faizpur Congress and the Joint Conference of the B.P.C.C. and the Ward Committees should be held sometime earlier to discuss the draft resolutions.

Mr. R. K. Achreker suggested that the B.P.C.C. should declare its attitude towards the Communal disturbances in the city and clear its position as interested parties were carrying on anti-Congress propaganda.

CITY RIOTS.

Mr. S. K. Patil, in the course of a statement, said that it had become recognised fact that the B.P.C.C. was the premier public body in the City and naturally the people should have been wondering why such an organisation had not made its position clear regarding as the communal disturbances in the city. He said that the communal riots were being exploited not only for communal, but election purposes and Congress could not ignore it. Though the immediate reason for the starting of the trouble was communal, the recrudescence of it, after a lull of a few days, was due to something more than communal reasons and the speaker would not be surprised, if interested parties kept the trouble on till the day of election. Such a continuance of the trouble would have a tremendous reaction on the minds of the people. The speaker suggested that the President should be authorized to issue a dignified statement clarifying the position of the Congress in so far as the Congress was concerned.

STRESS ECONOMIC PROGRAMME.

Another member, who spoke next, agreed with the Secretary that the President should issue a statement clarifying the position of the Congress in so far as the riots were concerned. He urged that the President in his statement should stress the economic aspect of the Congress Programme and explain to the masses of both the communities that those who posed themselves as their leaders were not really their leaders. The statement should also explain the Congress attitude towards the communal question.

Mr. K. F. Nariman said that though the Congress Officially might not have done anything in connection with the Communal disturbances, individual members and officers of the B.P.C.C. had been doing some work. He personally used to visit the disturbed areas every morning for two or three hours. He referred to the work of some of the members of the B.P.C.C. who were working in the Relief Committees and some of the Congress Volunteers who rescued people from the disturbed areas at the risk of their lives. He would issue the statements if he was authorised to do so, but he suggested that he would not exploit the situation, for election, political or economic purposes. The object of the statement would be the restoration of peace in the city as early as possible.

It was understood that the suggestion of Mr. Patil was accepted, when the House abruptly rose.

THROUGH UNITY TO VICTORY

Cripps Sends New Year Greetings To People Of India

BOMBAY, Nov. 10.

Sir Stafford Cripps, the British Socialist leader, has sent the following message to the people of India, on the occasion of the new year:

"I send you my greeting for the New Year for the Indian people. The past is dark indeed with the ruin of the hopes, and aspirations of many who have struggled for the improvement of the lot of India, may the future be brighter with the determination of your great leaders to triumph over all the difficulties and doubts that may beset them. The workers of Great Britain stretch out the hand of friendship to the workers of India in the hope that they may help one another to achieve freedom from the age-long exploitation under which they both suffer.

"Leaders may direct and counsel the masses of the workers, but it is those masses who must by their political action, determine the future of themselves and their people. To-day each one of us required new courage and fresh determination to challenge all that we see in the world that is evil, hateful and cruel. Every citizen however humble can give his service and his help in the great cause of freedom and peace, and that freedom and peace will never be accomplished until the people of India are drawn together into the firm bond of common purpose and common interest. Your enemies will always try to divide you by sectarian interests that they may keep you conquered and subject by this division. Unity must be inscribed upon your banners, for unity means victory to the cause of freedom.

"May the New Year bring to the suffering millions of India, new hope, fresh courage and an unrelenting determination to win their freedom."—United Press.

WHY FOREIGN EXPERTS?

Dr. Saha Criticises Govt. For Its "Niggardly" Educational Policy

ALLAHABAD, Nov. 10.

Speaking at a function held in his honour by the Physics Department of Allahabad University last evening Doctor Meghanath Saha who has returned from visits to European and American Universities, strongly criticised the Government of India for not favouring the establishment of Radio Research Board in this country which was unanimously supported by eminent professors in England. He challenged the Indian Broadcasting Department which as at present constituted had no scientific staff capable to utilise or advance radio research. He said that Government was wasting a large amount of money in bringing to India and sending back to England Foreign Experts at a large expenditure to the tax-payer, but they would not spend much smaller a sum in accepting co-operation from Universities of India which has been offered. Dr. Shah recalled his observations made in Continental Universities where Government of every country without persuasion had equipped research departments to its best.

NIGGARDLY

The Government in this country was otherwise, said he. Their treatment was niggardly and disappointing. He thought that opposition to higher education as evidenced in the present policy of Government was misconceived and misdirected.

With the elimination of higher education even the little understanding we have of the modern intricate problems of cultural and economic struggles, which is essential in order that the nation may live will not be available in this country.

He asked: "How can we prepare the rising generation for leadership of the Nation, if higher education given in the Universities is to disappear and is to be curtailed"?—United Press.

NEW DELHI, Nov. 10.

The following communique is issued under the signatures of Messrs. H. Dow (Government of India) and K. Yonezawa (Japan):

The Indo-Japanese discussions continued yesterday when the Japanese delegate brought forward and explained new proposals for the modification of the existing protocol particularly with regard to the nature of the link between Japanese piece-goods and the purchase of Indian raw cotton.

The position arising out of the separation of Burma was also further discussed.—A. P.

CONGRESS SUCCESS ASSURED IN C. P.

(From Our Correspondent.)

NAGPUR, Nov. 10.

A feeling of robust optimism prevails throughout the province about the Congress triumph at the forthcoming provincial elections following the achievement of unity between the Nationalists and Congressmen throughout Berar and C. P. Marathi.

The Nationalists particularly Mr. Ogale have nothing but sheer praise for the manner in which Dr. Khare carried the discussions for evolving a formula acceptable to both the parties. It is now quite certain that the Congress will have a clear majority in future Assembly.

Mr. M. Deshmukh ex-Minister has tendered his resignation of the presidentship to Berar Nationalist Party and Rao Saheb Uttamrao Patil, M. L. C., Secretary of the party will carry on till the election of the President. Several Nationalist Councillors saw Mr. Deshmukh at Amraoti on Sunday last and urged him to continue to lead the party but it is reported Mr. Deshmukh declined to go back over the Aney-Biyani pact.

CALM AFTER CURFEW HOUR

But Cowardly Assaults Take Their Toll During Day

Four persons died and 30 were injured as a result of stray assaults and communal rioting in the city, which again made its appearance with all its horrible features on Tuesday.

The situation after dusk on Tuesday was quiet except for three incidents reported from Dongri; Maharbowri and at Dadar. One unknown Muslim was killed and five persons were injured by stray assaults upto mid-night.

The curfew order was enforced by the sections concerned with rigour last night and practically the whole of those areas were deserted except for the police patrols on the streets and gullies.

Every train leaving Bori Bunder and Churchgate carried a full load of local passengers who in the ordinary course travelled by tram cars or buses, to their homes. The precaution taken by the public itself helped to prevent a recurrence of the incidents reported during the day.

Mr. Harjivandas Gokaji, a merchant from Ghatkopar who was stabbed opposite the Jackeria Masjid in the afternoon, died in the hospital in the evening.

The total casualties on Tuesday were four killed and 30 injured.

At Dongri a Ghati was stabbed by some unknown persons when he was proceeding to his work. The man ran for some distance and fell down. He was picked up and removed to the hospital but died on the way. This incident happened at Jail Road and soon after a Muslim passing along the same road was stabbed and he was removed to the hospital where he has been detained for treatment.

At Dadar the body of an unknown Muslim was picked up by the police opposite the Plaza Cinema. He was, it is stated, set upon by some Hindus and done to death in cold blood.

An unseemly situation which would have had serious consequences was nipped in time by the Maharbourie Police at Chota Kabrastan opposite the Northbrook Gardens. Three Bhayyas proceeding from Surti Mohalla were set upon by a group of Muslims and assaulted. One of the men ran into a nearby Chowki and escaped while of the two one was stabbed and the other severely assaulted with sticks. The injured men were removed to the hospital.

POLICE TO TAKE STRINGENT MEASURES.

At mid-night the situation was all quiet and to prevent any unseemly incidents, the areas were picketted by the police and police vans moved about in the bye-lanes and alleys.

It is now not unlikely that the Police will resort to very stringent measures and it is even hinted that some of the ring-leaders who have kept up the smouldering fire alive are likely to be deported. The general round-up of Mawalis and hirelings is to be carried on with greater vigour and the whole of the disturbed areas are to be thoroughly combed by the Police. Last night over twenty persons suspected to be implicated in the incidents of the afternoon were placed under arrest and a vigilant look out is being maintained for scouts and mischief-mongers.

The authorities, it is understood, are exploring every avenue at their command to restore peace and confidence in the city.

The total number of injured for the day was 30. Thirteen persons were treated at the J. J. Hospital, two in the Congress Hospital, one in the G. T. Hospital and six persons were treated at the Muslim Hospital, while six persons were treated on the spot and allowed to go.

Balloon Barrage For Protection Of London

Inskip Reviews Britain's Defence Problems

LONDON, Nov. 11.

While maintaining that the Navy remained the first line of defence, Sir Thomas Inskip, reviewing defence problems in the House of Commons this afternoon, emphasised the necessity of collaboration between the Navy and Air Force. The main purpose of air expansion was to provide a defence against aerial attack. It was our aim and purpose to develop as deterrent and as powerful a striking force as we could.

BALLOON BARRAGE

In speed capacity and range our machines were not inferior to any abroad. Behind the Air Force were other measures to complete Britain's defence-guns, searchlights and other technical equipment. An extensive balloon barrage was contemplated for the protection of London.

POWERFUL GUNS

Next year would see the increased output which had already begun extending on an increasing scale till 1940. The Government factory at Nottingham would begin production in six weeks' time. Powerful guns were a prime necessity of air defence.

RECRUITMENT

Sir Thomas Inskip revealed that, while army recruitment was slow, recruitment for the Navy and Air Force was good. There had been 60,000 applications for 20,000 vacancies for airmen and boys, while pilots had increased 50 per cent.

He refused to believe that another war was inevitable if Britain took proper measures, but if Britain was ever involved in another war, she could never give up till she was safe again. That meant Britain would have to make the maximum effort till victory was complete.—Reuter.

"AFTER ALL IS SAID AND DONE."

The Government had decided not to appoint the Minister of supply in the absence of cogent proof that such an appointment was necessary. This decision would be reviewed periodically. He concluded by saying that rearmament was placing a stupendous financial strain upon the country. If the Government were to interrupt peace time industry, they would run the risk of destroying the nation's financial fabric. "When all is said and done, we have a long start over any one ill-advised enough to meddle with our freedom, and if we cared to use our resources, I don't see any reason why that freedom should be jeopardised."

IF HE WERE GEN. GOUGH

Premier Baldwin's Statement In Commons

(Special Cable).

LONDON, Nov. 10.

Mr. Baldwin told the House of Commons that, while fully appreciating General Gough's great services and congratulating him on the fact that history had vindicated his reputation, he did not think at this distance of time Government would be well advised to reopen the question of rewards for war services or attempt to revise the decisions of their predecessors. If he was in General Gough's place he would feel that his own conscience having been vindicated by his fellow-countrymen would be ample reward.

Ramsay MacDonald Faints During Lord Mayor's Banquet

Untoward Incident Mars Annual Function At Mansion House

LONDON, November 9.

The Lord Mayor's banquet in London on Monday was marred by an untoward incident.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald fainted and had to be carried out of the Mansion House. He was treated by Lord Dawson, after which, he was able to walk to his car, leaning on a policeman's arm.

Traditional Magnificence

Loud cheers were given for Mr. Baldwin as he made his way through the brilliantly uniformed crowd.

In a speech after dinner, Mr. Baldwin said that Britain would support all attempts to reduce obstacles to international trade. She had already made contribution to it by undertaking not to indulge in competitive devaluation and no-exclusive imports policy.

After welcoming the Anglo-Italian Trade Agreement, the Premier said that Anglo-Italian relations in the Mediterranean were not divergent, but complementary.

It was unnecessary, to say much, as usual, about foreign policy, seeing that it was recently explained in the Commons, but one matter was engaging the particular attention of the Government, namely, the Locarno Conference which, "we hope, will constitute the first step towards European settlement."

The Premier, particularly was gratified with the similarity of Anglo-American economic policies, which were designed to liberate the world from the shackles impeding international trade. Particularly, he took exception to the restrictions instituted during depression and expressed a keen desire to help the cause of world peace.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald fainted and had to be carried out of the Mansion House during the speeches at the Lord Mayor's banquet. He was treated by Lord Dawson after which, he was able to walk to his car leaning on a policeman's arm, and leave for home.

ANGLO-EGYPTIAN TREATY

The Anglo-Egyptian Treaty should constitute an enduring element of stability in the Eastern Mediterranean. "We welcome Egypt as a new ally (cheers).

"As regards Spain, Britain will continue to take a prominent part in persuading both sides to avoid unnecessary suffering of the civil population".

Greeting Colonel Beck, who is at present visiting London, Mr. Baldwin, looked forward to close Anglo-Polish collaboration.

Concluding, the Premier dwelt on the inconceivable folly of the whole of Europe piling up arms, thereby delaying international trade, on which alone could an improvement in the conditions of the people of Europe be based.

"I am prepared to devote all efforts, regardless of cost to perfect our defences, but I am conscious, all the time, of the folly of all of us", concluded Mr. Baldwin.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

"His Personality Still Controls Millions"

S. A. Delegate Refutes Allegation Against Gandhiji

MADRAS, (By Mail.)

The Pietermaritzburg correspondent of the "Hindu" cables to his paper:—

"Mr. Van der Merwe, a member of Hofmeyer deputation to India and M.P. for the Orange Free State, giving his impressions of the tour, condemned "British Imperialism" and criticised the enormous expenditure on New Delhi.

Mr. der Merve felt that owing to India's poverty, South Africa should tackle the Union's Indian question without giving further thoughts to repatriation. Touching India's future, Mr. Van der Merwe said:

IRRESISTIBLE SPIRIT.

"An irresistible spirit of Nationalism has arisen in India. The allegation that Mahatma Gandhi has lost his influence is untrue. His personality still controls millions. A word from him can change India into a bath of blood. Mahatma Gandhi is getting old, but his inspiration has created an army of able leaders, whom nothing will obstruct. They demand complete independence."

Proceeding, he declared:—

"As with us in our own National struggle, there are also able Indians, who have been caught in the Imperialistic nets, who to-day plead for the Empire and preach fusion in politics. But, the stream of Nationalism, however, is swamping them. In the domain of Economics, the spirit of Nationalism is creating industries, thus forcing English trade more and more into the background."

Side by side with glorious architectural works, before which the delegation stood spell bound at the brilliance and glory of man's achievement, said Mr. Van der Merwe, were menacing clouds of poverty, misery and ignorance.

"There are signs, however, of a New Spring, following the winter sleep of the so-called unchangeable East. The world will have to keep count of this," said Mr. Van der Merwe, concluding.—United Press.

SIND WOMEN'S DEMANDS

Karachi Conference Supports Bills Of Deshmukh Raja And Das

(From Our Correspondent.)

KARACHI, Nov. 9.

The annual meeting of the Sind Provincial Constituent Branch of the All-India Women's Conference was held this afternoon at Khalikdina Hall when prominent workers including Begum Haroon were present and Lady Graham was among the distinguished visitor.

Moving resolutions for submission to the All-India Conference at the forthcoming session, a number of speakers, including Mrs. Tyabji Dr. Tarabai, Miss Sethna and Mrs. Pestonji dealt lengthily with educational, social and other aspects of various problems affecting women in Sind. Resolutions of far reaching importance were adopted urging the introduction of compulsory primary education of boys and girls wherefor the central Government was asked to create special fund and supporting the promotion of rural broadcasting as the greatest instrument of educational social and economic betterment of the country.

On the social side the conference urged legislators to enact into law bills moved by Dr. Deshmukh, Messrs. Das, Bhagwandas and R. B. Raja.

Philanthropists were urged to open rescue homes for growing number of unfortunate women and condemned the practice of allowing brothels to spring up at fairs. By another resolution the meeting urged, the co-operation of women social workers in the work of social reconstruction undertaken by private and Government agencies. The meeting further urged the Sind Government to appoint women volunteers to act as polling officers and scrutinise women's vote at the forthcoming elections.

Concluding the meeting emphasised the need for expansion of co-operative housing schemes.

A large number of women of all communities were present, including purdha ladies.

INDIAN RAILWAYS' CONFERENCE

Will Be Opened By Viceroy On Nov. 21 At Council House

(From Our Correspondent.)

NEW DELHI, Nov. 10.

The Viceroy will open at the Council House on the 21st instant the thirtyfifth session of Indian Railway Conference Association under the presidency of Sir H. N. Solam, Agent M. and S. M. Railway.

The Conference will be attended by 60 officers from the majority of the railways in India and Burma and it is expected Sir Ralph Wedgwood (Chairman) and members of the Railway Enquiry Committee will be able to attend the opening session.

The conference is expected to last about a week.

The agenda consists of 80 subjects dealing with the work done during the year by civil engineering, mechanical engineering, electrical, medical personnel and stores sections and commercial and operating and accounts committees of the association and covered a wide field ranging from the simplification of goods tariff to the prevention of the use of faked tickets. As also the economic aspect of the intensive use of locomotives, air-conditioning of passenger stock economics of railway signalling, welding railway joints, Public Health Services on Railways and colour vision rules for employees.

This conference will be preceded by a series of discussions between the agents of railways and the Railway Board on several departmental aspects of the Railway Administration beginning with Monday April 16.

The annual conference was to have been normally held in Simla in October but owing to the protracted session of the Assembly over the Companies Bill it was postponed to this month in New Delhi.

BRISK CONGRESS WORK IN MYSORE STATE

Beautiful Ivory Throne Built After 18 Years Of Hard Labour

(From Our Correspondent.)

BANGALORE, (By Mail.)

As a result of Dr. N. S. Hardiker's tour in the State, nearly 6,000 primary members have been enrolled and 25 Congress committees are expected to get functioning shortly. The Cantonment Congress Committee, for the first time in the history of Congress in the State has set up five candidates to contest seats in the Municipal Council.

The Mysore State has been allotted 13 rural and 11 urban delegates to Faizpur Congress by the A.I.C.C. out of which 7 seats go to Bangalore.

WONDERFUL IVORY THRONE.

A throne which has taken one individual 18 years of labour to complete and which is valued at Rs. 80,000 is on view at the 'Yelandur Mansions' at Mysore. The throne is made up of closely jointed ivory pieces of equisite workmanship depicting stories from Ramayana and Mahabharata. The whole throne is mounted upon four ivory lions, canopied by a silver umbrella. The workmanship and design are of the planning of Hosabale Puttappa and his brother of Nagar, in Mysore State, the home for ivory and sandal wood carving. The throne was specially executed for the Sri Ramachendrapur Mutt of Thirthahalli but I learn it is now offered for sale. It would be an ornament to any country that possess it. It is contemplated to send the throne to some Continental exhibition.

"LEARN TO CULTIVATE MUTUAL LOVE"

Frontier Gandhi's Advice To Students At Wardha

WARDHA, Nov. 10.

Addressing the students of the Marwari Vidyalaya, Wardha, on the occasion of their anniversary, Khan Abdul Gaffar Khan said:—

"Dear children, you are the builders and fighters of to-morrow. India is claimed to be religious both by Hindus and by Muslims, but what they think of religion is not religion. Religion is not hatred and jealousy; it is love and service of humanity. I wish very much you should follow this religion in your daily life.

"Hatred is 'Satanic' and God can have nothing to do with it. The Nation's heart has to be one. it cannot be divided into various sects and creeds. Learn to cultivate mutual love and sympathy. Unity alone can do good to our dying nation. It alone can set it free."

Sjt. Brijlal Biyani who presided asked the students and teachers to be worthy of the institution founded by Seth Jamnalal Bajaj and Shrikrishna Jaju and wished the Vidyalaya increasing success.—United Press.

"Cultural Heritage" In Three Volumes

CALCUTTA, (By Mail.)

With a view to bringing the subjects under a more logical grouping the Publication Sub-Committee of the Sri Ramakrishna Centenary have decided to divide the Centenary volume entitled "The Cultural Heritage of India," into three parts, though they originally intended to publish it in two. The book which is the result of the collaboration of ninety eminent scholars of India contains a complete survey of the gradual unfoldment of the creative genius of the Indian people in the domains of religion. Philosophy, Art, Literature and Scientific researches and investigations from the Vedic age to modern times.

The wide range which this encyclopaedic volume of more than two thousand pages of double crown octave size covers, coupled with the fact that work, both editorial and technical, of a very high standard has got to be put into it is necessarily delaying its publication, not withstanding the best efforts of the Centenary Committee to expedite it. However, now the work is nearing completion and they hope to place it before the public towards the close of next month.—United Press.

Simultaneous Fight For Swaraj And Socialism

PT. JAWAHARLAL HAS STRUCK THE RIGHT CHORD, SAYS RANGA

MADRAS, Nov. 10.

Presiding over the Kistna District Ryots Conference, Prof. N. G. Ranga, M.L.A., said:—

"We are in a specially difficult position as compared to other people enjoying self-government. We have to gain self-government and independence from the British domination and rid ourselves from the growing hold upon our economic life held by the exploiting classes. Naturally we are quite free to concentrate entirely either on political issues or economic struggles. We are told again and again even by our beloved Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru that we ought to immediately concentrate more on the issue of national independence and the incidental anti-imperialist fight than on the class struggle.

"Our peasants and workers have been concentrating for all the last sixteen years to the maximum extent permitted by their resources moral and material only upon our political struggle. No national or conscious attempt has been made either on a class basis or on reformistic lines to tackle any of the major economic problem of our masses. Their indebtedness has grown in size and incidence, their rents and land revenue tax burdens and duties have been enhanced, their dependence upon the monopolist exporter and moneyminded middlemen has deepened and their per capita productive capacity and annual income have come down.

NATIONAL HERO.

"Our national hero, Pandit Nehru, has struck the right chord, so well strung during the last sixteen years by our Mahatma when he has said that our fight must be concentrated upon poverty and penury. But how are we to fight these P's? Khaddar is not enough. A.I.V.I.A., cannot go anywhere. Rural reconstruction cannot touch them. The allurements of a world war and the prospects of an approaching fall of capitalism cannot weaken them.

"We have to say 'no' to the latest war cry." "Swaraj first and Socialism next." We must fight for Swaraj and Socialism simultaneously and self-consciously.—United Press.

PEASANTS MUST VOTE FOR CONGRESS

Harsud Political Conference

JUBBULPORE, Nov. 9.

On the occasion of the Singaji fair, a meeting of the Harsud Tehsil Political Conference was held at Harsud, during the week-end, Pandia D. P. Mishra of Jubbulpore, presiding.

The Conference was largely attended by peasants from several villages and was addressed by Messrs. Makhanlal Chaturvedy, Bhagwant Rao Mandlo, M.L.C., C. G. Mishra, Mr. Mazumdar, Pleader, Pooran Chand Gupta and others.

The speakers, in the course of the speeches, appealed to the public to muster round the Congress banner and vote for the Congress candidates in the forthcoming elections to the Provincial Legislative Assembly.—United Press.

FOR BURMA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Election For Four Rangoon Indian Seats

RANGOON, Nov. 10.

Rangoon Indians woke up this morning to register their franchise for four Rangoon Indian seats in the House of Representatives, elections to which commenced to-day.

Indian lady volunteers in their bright saris and Mahomedan male volunteers in their smart "khaki" uniform were seen parading the streets in cars carrying voters to the respective booths. About 38 booths have been opened. Fourteen candidates are contesting the four Indian seats, while one Rangoon Indian Labour seat is being contested by three.

Four Burmans are contesting the Rangoon non-Indian Labour seat.

Voting for general constituencies takes place on Nov. 14.—A. P.

SETTLEMENT OR STRIKE

B. N. Railway Labour Union's Ultimatum To Agent

BHUJUDIH, Nov 10.

At a general meeting of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, Indian Labour Union, held here last evening, a resolution requesting the personal intervention of the Agent of the Railway whose sympathy alone could avert a strike was adopted. Another resolution giving notice for strike was also adopted unanimously.

Explaining the import of this resolution Mr. V. R. Kalappa General Secretary of the Union made it clear that the resolutions implied no threat nor they stood in the way of negotiations for a settlement. It was merely a formality to comply with the Indian Trade Disputes Act. The workers were restive and discontended. It would become necessary on the part of the Union to protect them, should they resort to direct action out of sheer desparation. Hence the notice. Moreover, it gave 14 days time for wiser counsels to prevail. Mr. Badianath Das, the Union Vice-President, who studied the situation personally would meet the Agent to-day and try for a settlement. Kashinath Muttu is in charge of the local situation.—United Press.

SOME OF THE ROOT CAUSES
Of Glaring Defects Of Indian Films

(By M. A.)

Let us take the story to be alright, even excellent. The story is not the chief or the only thing. The story may be alright to the mind and sentiment. But that will not produce a beautiful picture to the eye or to the artistic sense, even from the Acting view point.'

THE SCENARIO.

The scenarists with original ideas seem to be lacking. The scenarist plays to the gallery through his mode of writing, which produces continuities which are hackeneyed or stolen. There is a tendency to describe things which all people know and which all people like.

THE DIRECTION.

The director has some strokes of his own which he often reproduces, chiefly what is psychopathic—to be plain. Or he, like the scenarist, tries to describe through his actors what all people have seen and are accustomed to like.

THE ACTING.

The actor has never studied the profession or the subject—save in some instances. The actors are not chosen for their capacities. A European studio manager knows which actor is good for which part and engages such ones. Here any friend of the bosses is enough to be selected for acting. Under the scenario and direction conditions described, even the best actor is not fitted for the screen. Moreover, the actors seem to be 'over-directed' and the picture comes out "constrained" i.e., against the nature and will of the actors—and dancers. The best way to avoid the artificiality in acting which is imposed by the will of the director is to allow each actor freedom to play his part naturally—as he would act under the situation—and improve the acting but only just a little, but not to the point of artificiality. The very scenarios have been written for false, i.e. artificial acting, the copy is stuffed with situations which are strange to the actor, the director and the scenarist himself. That is because, European situations are imagined and described which are unknown to the actor, the director and scenarist, or Indian situations are "Europeanised". This is the chief weakness of Bombay pictures. In Calcutta and other parts, purely Indian situations are described which are easier to control, improve and direct—and act. The very European dress makes an Indian actor—even the man in the street—cataleptic. He loses his poise and natural gait in the European dress.

CAMERAWORK.

Apart from the defects of lighting the cameraman shoots anything indifferent and often too short where it should be long and too long where it should be short. The editor has very little choice in putting the picture together with effect, even if he were a genius. The cameraman should be alert in shooting "the interesting and artistic parts". Probably, the director himself is responsible for too long and too short shootings. The cameraman if he is interested in his work and wants to show his capacities should not merely take orders but should be an artist and must suggest to the director and even the actors how the picture should be and can made 'more' effective. Merely choosing the angle is not his duty. Probably the directors dictate to the cameraman even here. The cameraman is an assistant to the director, as regards artistic effects. He should be and become one.

EDITING.

Editing is rendered impossible or spoilt because of the work of the scenarist because the editor has no choice in the making up of picture owing to want of proper materials shot presented to him to make an effective picture and owing to the writing of the scenario upon which the picture is made. Even the best editor cannot do anything with the bad and wrong materials supplied to him. "I knew of an editor who made the best picture out of the waste materials thrown away by film companies." But the scenario writing, direction and shooting

Feroze Dastur In "Atma Taranga" (Minerva)

make the editor's work impossible owing to want of a proper picture "in the minds of the scenarist, and director"—and the cameraman shooting anything indifferent or bad, and even that badly. There are not sufficient pictures of interesting and contrasting nature left to the editor; how can he give a good continuity and sequence? I am not saying that the editors have also ideas of what to make out of the materials supplied to them; they work according to a known and accepted formula. Very few books have been written even in Europe on editing. since it is an abstruse subject. The theories of editing made after the contents of one or two pictures do not hold good for every picture to be composed. For the materials are different with every picture. The editor, has therefore to make a good system for every picture, according to the materials on hand i.e. supplied to him. It is only thus originality can be put into the pictures—but not on any imitative scheme.

SCENIC BACKGROUND, DRESS AND MAKE-UP

Least attention is paid to these in Indian pictures,—even in painting. The best picture can be spoilt by little or careless attention to these.

NEW THEATRES' MANZIL OR GRIHADAH FOR THE ROXY
Postponed

(CONTRIBUTED.)

One of the most eagerly awaited pictures in the city of Bombay is New Theatres' "Manzil" or "Grihadah" which was to be released from to-day at the Roxy, had been postponed because of the unfortunate riots in the city.

But when this picture will be released, they say that it is going to be a great hit—because Director Barua's adoption of the original story from Sarat Chatterjee's book of the same name is simply remarkable.

One of the most absorbing stories ever written is New Theatre's Ltd. (Calcutta), social drama "Manzil" or "Grihadah" shortly coming to Roxy when there will be peace in the city.

Sarat Chatterjee, the well-known author of Bengal depicts the conflict of love, companionship and hatred resulting in such a powerful story that when you see it you will feel it like a true-life plot.

Wherever "Manzil" has been shown they say that it is one of the most cleverly written melodrama of an average man and woman. The dialogue is powerful.

"Manzil" has made a success because it has been cleverly directed by India's veteran scenarist and director, Pramathesh Barua—who gave you a glorious picture like "Devdas."

Jamuna the star of emotions whose role of Parvati in "Devadas" can never be forgotten, appears here in one of the most touching characterisation ever written for her. Then there are P. Barua, Prithviraj, Molina, K. C. Dey, Nemo and Bengal's Radio Queen Harimati Devi.

Photography is good and the technical side of the picture is also superb. "Manzil will be released at Roxy Talkies when there will be Peace in city.

Question Of The Week

Will the Cycle of "Topical" and "Social" Indian films follow the "Triumphant" weeks of mythological pictures?

"STUDIO NEWS"

(CONTRIBUTED).

Mr. Sohrab Modi's final decision to act in "Atma Tarang," his current production, has created considerable interest among fans and film circles. His role in the picture will be that of Guru Dinanath, the guiding spirit of a sect of sadhus, who believe in humanitarianism and service to the distressed. It is a very important role indeed. Though a far cry from his previous portrayals, this part is specially after Mr. Modi's own heart and is calculated to put his talents to full test.

The shooting of "Atma Tarang" is progressing steadily and scrupulous attention is being given to the minutes details. Mr. Modi is very satisfied with the performances of Firoze and Prabha and he believes that the latter is a potential star of first magnitude.

Mr. Apte the director of the company's Marathi picture "Namded." is busy with one of its spectacular settings for which the company has already gained reputation.

SAGAR STUDIO NEWS

Mr. Surendra Desai, M.A., has returned from Calcutta having purchased the rights for three of the best Bengali novels of Dr. Sarat Chandra Chatterji viz:—

(1) Bijoya or Datta, (2) Chandranath, (3) Badi Didi, (Elder Sister), and some further arrangements made in Calcutta will be announced later on.

Mr. Hiren Bose, will start his "Eternal Music" very shortly leading Surendra as hero.

Mr. Badami has practically completed "Daughter-in-law" written by Mr. K. M. Munshi, featuring Sabitadevi, and he is busy with his new scenario of "Kokila," the famous Gujrati novel by Mr. Ramanlal V. Desai, M.A., wherein Sabitadevi will have a leading role.

Mr. Luhar has completed Capt. Kirtikumar except some outdoor scenes, which he desires to take along with his new picture "Diamond King."

Mr. Mehboob is rapidly progressing with his new picture, the plot of which is very sensational and full of mystery.

TAMIL PICTURE.

"Thyagraj" has progressed half way and promises to be one of the best Tamil picture ever produced. No pains are being spared to make it a faithful picturisation of the life of the great saint, and practically the entire Studio Staff and Artistes are taking part to make the picture a great success.

"JANMA BHOOMI"
Spectators Cheer When Children Sing The Song Of Unity

(CONTRIBUTED).

It was the opening night of "Janma Bhoomi" at Opera House.

Loud cheers broke out as the children who are shown being taught by Protima chanted in unison, "Hindu, Muslim, Sikh, Isaee; Apas men hain bhai bhai" (Hindus, Muslims, Sikhs and Christians are all brothers unto one another). As the cheers resounded in the dimly lit hall one felt a thrill of optimism even though one can hardly forget the blood bath the city has so recently had in the name of communalism. Those little children in the picture symbolize the new hope; the cheering by the audience indicate that, at heart, the Bombay citizen is wholly in sympathy with the sentiment of unity.

And since Saturday when "Janma Bhoomi" was publicly shown for the first time, those cheers have resounded again and again in every show. There are other scenes as well which inspire the audience to loudly acclaim the sentiment underlying them. The final denunciation of the villains and reactionaries, for instance, immediately evokes a burst of applause. Equally emphatically does the audience register other emotions in harmony with the motif of the picture. It gasps with admiration at the great sacrifice Protima (played by Devika Rani) is prepared to make for the sake of a noble cause; there are actual outbursts of abuse when one of the reactionary characters appears on the screen, and how well the spectators like to hum and, sometimes, even join in the inspiring chorus as the band of village workers go to work lustily singing. If the highest form of histrionic Art is to attune the minds and hearts of the audience to the sentiment of the play, "Janma Bhoomi" has certainly achieved it. Throughout the exciting drama which unrolls itself in "Janma Bhoomi," one has the feeling of participating in it, of being one with the characters in the film; one feels like joining the happy band of workers led by Protima and Ajoy, to work with them, to sing with them, to suffer and die with them.

"ROMANTIC INDIA"
At Super Talkies

Rajputana Film Ld's. Musical Love Romance "Romantic India" which commenced at Super Talkies at Charni Road Junction from Thursday the 5th inst. has been accorded a rousing reception by eager cinefans.

Every show throughout the week had been crowded. 16 Lilting songs and vigorous dialogues are repeatedly applauded by the audience.

The entire powerful cast of "Fashionable India" appear in this picture.

The versatile actress Miss Noorjehan, the Society girl. Miss Ratha and Miss Snehelata, Mr. Prem (as Romantic Lover) Mr. O. K. Dar (as the naughty prince) Master Shyamsunder as page boy and tap-dancer, all add strength and colour to the picture by their remarkable acting, sweetest songs and really romantic love-music.

Besides the pair of famous comedians Panditji and Munsiji send a peel of roar and laughter throughout the picture by their novel jokes, humorous and eccentricities.

It is sure to run for many successful weeks.

"MAYA"
Sixth Week At Minerva

(CONTRIBUTED.)

One of the most cleverly picturized, directed and acted is New Theatre's social melodrama "Maya" now drawing crowded houses every day is running sixth week at Minerva Talkies.

"Maya" tells of a story of modern conflicts of thoughts. Western ideology, Western outlook in daily life—which sweep over Indian ideology create a scuffle between the two and there comes forth a dilemma in which both the parties are entangled and vainly try to seek its solution.

"Maya—is an effort to throw light over this strange complexity. Screne was the object of Pratap—who living in quite an ultra-modern society, comes across an ultra-modern girl. She was to marry Pratap. Can she give him that peace of soul?

Pratap (Pahari Sanyal) found place of soul in Maya—Maya who was but like a maid in the house of "Shanta"—She was calm, cool and screne—A monument of magnificent. Pratap thought that only Maya can give him what he wanted. And he began to love her? But did Shanta tolerate this sort of affair with Maya?

There is your favourite director Sjt. Pramathesh Barua—who gave you "Devdas" how wonderfully he must have directed the remaining touching sequences! You can understand with what remarkable case Sjt. Barua can handle his characters! And in this great picture "Maya" Barua is really greater than any other Indian director. So far as social themes are concerned. Director Barua has no equal in our Indian Film World. In "Maya he gives us a remarkable climax.

About the characters you can rest assured that when there are stars like Jamuna, Pahari Sanyal, Azurie, K. C. Dey, Nawab, Jagdeesh, Harimati and Rajlaxmi.

Photography is brilliant, dialogues are touching and tense, music is charming and pleasant. You must not miss this touching drama of modern life.

C. P. Revenue Board Bill "Killed"

Council's Strong Opposition To Appointment Of I. C. S. Men As Members

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).

NAGPUR: November 10.

The C. P. Board of Revenue Bill, which was sponsored by Mr. Burton in the last session of the C. P. Council, was virtually killed to-day, after a three-hour debate.

The Bill provides for the appointment of two I.C.S.-men as members of the Revenue Board to be set up under the new Government of India Act.

Why Permanent?

The Councillors resented the idea of keeping posts as monopoly for servicemen and Mr. Parakh of Nagpur moved an amendment to the effect that the members of the Board shall not be permanent servants of the Crown, that they shall be members of the local Bar, entitled to practise as advocates at the Nagpur High Court and that they shall not draw more than Rs. 2,000 as salary.

After a heated debate and brisk canvassing on behalf of the Government, the motion of Mr. Parakh was carried by 42 votes to 19.

This took the wind out of Government's sails and after the amendment of the Bill Government declined to proceed further with the Bill.

Mr. Kedar, the Opposition Leader, appealed to the Government to show good grace and proceed with the Bill.

"BOW TO ITS DECISION."

Mr. Parakh also asked them to bow to the decision of the House but Government was obstinate.

Amidst some amusement Mr. Parakh although a non-official, rose to move that the amended Bill be passed into law. The President said, under the Standing Orders only the member in charge of the Bill, viz: Hon. G. P. Burton, Revenue Member, could make the motion in respect of the same.

At this stage, Home Member, Mr. Raghavendra Rao, Leader of the House, intervening said that His Excellency the Governor had statutory powers to set up the Board and that he would set the same up in exercise of the same.

GOVT. CHALLENGED.

Mr. Kedar, Opposition Leader, challenged the Governor to exercise those powers. Is this the preamble to the working of the new Government of India Act? asked Dr. P. S. Deshmukh.

There shall be no canvassing on the floor of the House either by gestures or twinkling of an eye, demanded Mr. Parakh before his amendment was pressed to divial victory during the last few months and the announcement of the result of the division was heavily applauded by non-official benches.

This is the first great non-officision.

IN PRISON FOR OVER 20 YEARS

When Lahore Conspiracy Case Convicts Will Be Released

LAHORE, Nov. 9. (Delayed).

During question hour it was informed in the Punjab Council that there were two 1914-15 Lahore conspiracy case prisoners still in jail, Parmanand and Gurmukh Singh.

The Government proposed to consider the release of Parmanand in July 1937 if the behaviour of the prisoner in the meantime remained satisfactory.

Gurmukh Singh served about 7 years of sentence. There were 12 detenus in the Punjab till the end of September 1936 of whom seven were Regulation III 1818 prisoners. Three were detained under the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act, Sjt. Satin Sen being one and two were detained under the Punjab Criminal Law Amendment Act.

MARTIAL LAW PRISONERS.

There were, it was further informed, 12 Martial Law prisoners. Regarding their release Sir Donald Boyd said that the normal practice in case of a life prisoner of the type was to release him after 25 years less such remission as might have been earned. According to this principle prisoners who were now in the Andamans having earned special one-third remission allowed to prisoners transported overseas would be due for release on various dates in 1937-38. Those in India should not according to the rule, be discharged until considerably later.

Thus the Government, Sir Donald Boyd added, proposed to consider their cases as special measures at the same time when the Andaman prisoners became due for release. The conduct of all these prisoners was not good throughout.

A short notice question in the Council elicited the information that the unemployed graduates of the Punjab received some land.

TO BE RECOMMITTED.

Replying to another question as regards the arrest of Gurmukh Singh, an alleged communist of international repute, the Finance Member informed the Punjab Council that the Government were satisfied that the arrested man was identical with Gurmukh Singh who was sentenced to transportation for life in the Lahore Conspiracy case of 1914-15 and escaped from custody in January 1923 was re-arrested on September 3 last under Sec. 2(1) of the Punjab Criminal Law Amendment Act 1935 and was being detained under the same Act. Steps were now being taken for his re-committal to jail to complete his sentence of transportation for life.—United Press.

INDIAN DEFEATS OLYMPIC CHAMPION

Keen Wrestling Contest At Lahore

(From Our Correspondent.)

ALLAHABAD, Nov. 9.

One of the most remarkable feats of strength was witnessed yesterday evening in the All-India Wrestling Tournament, being held here, when Herr Arnold Koesis, Rumania's, Champion wrestler and the 1932 Olympic Champion, was decisively overthrown by Mr. Mohmed Shafi of Lahore in the seventh minute of the bout, scheduled to last for half an hour. Thousands of spectators had gathered to see the event, and the crowd yelled and cheered with joy, when the Lahore machineman sat astride on his opponent's chest.

Both wrestlers came to grips immediately, while the Rumanian parried for neck-hold, the Indian sought the exploit of well-known "Kaichee," in 20 seconds he rose to his feet, when it was seen Koesis had been brought down. Shafi forced Koesis on his stomach, and despite his giant strength turned him over in 7th minute. Koesis sank in token in complete submission.

Mr. Shafi was congratulated and gifts in shape of money showered on him.

Muccadam Gets 3 Years' R. I. For Forgery And Cheating Municipality

A man who was said to have "contaminated the whole of the railway goods yard at Carnac Bunder," was sentenced at the Criminal Sessions by the Bombay High Court on Monday to a term of three years' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 500.

The prisoner in the dock was Umaji Dagdooji, a muccadam, who, in collusion with an employee of the Municipality and another of the B. B. and C. I. Railway., was found by the majority of the jury to have forged a consignment receipt, used it as genuine and cheated the Municipality in respect of town duty refund.

The other two accused in the case were: Parashram N. Karnik, formerly town duty register clerk, and Sahadev Ambaji assistant loading foreman, in the B. B. and C. I. Railway. They were awarded an aggregate term of three years' rigorous imprisonment each.

Fraud of Rs. 10

The fraud in respect of which the three men were convicted involved only about Rs. 10, but before sentences had been pronounced prosecuting counsel pointed out that this was only one of a series of frauds practised systematically in the goods yards, causing a loss to a public body to the tune of thousands of rupees. It would be dangerous, counsel declared, to treat the prisoners leniently.

Originally the accused were charged in respect of three counts of forgery, but after the evidence had been recorded the Judge upheld the defence contention that two town duty refund forms in respect of which two of the charges were framed could not be said to be forged documents. His Lordship during his summing up directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty" on those charges.

Bogus Consignment

The charge of forgery for which the accused were found guilty was in respect of a bogus consignment certificate. On this the third accused was found to have made certain false entries relating to the freight charges and the consignment receipt number. The entries should, in fact, have been made by the charging clerk and the receipt clerk.

The trial went on for six working days and the Judge (Mr. Justice N. J. Wadia) at the end of it thanked the members of the Jury They were exempted from serving on the jury for a period of two years.

Mr. Somji appeared for the Crown while Mr. M. K Azad instructed by Mr. A. S. R. Chari and Mr. Hilloowalla appeared for the first accused. Mr. Sabnis instructed by Mr. Dharkar appeared for the second accused and Mr. Fazl G. R. Khairaz, instructed by Mr. Kaviekar, appeared for the third accused.

Alleged Defalcation By City Cashier

The thrilling story of a cashier who, it is alleged, transacted in his own name cotton business in the East India Cotton Association and the Shri Mahajan Association, is alleged to have led a luxurious life, keeping a car and a mistress, was told before the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Bombay to-day.

Nensi Rakhoji, the cashier, was employed in the firm of Messrs Kanji Shivji and Co., and was alleged to have misappropriated Rs. 85,000. He was arrested by Sub-Inspector Desai of the C. I. D., General Branch. It is alleged that their enquiries showed that the accused used to transact business of his own in the East India Cotton and the Mahajan Associations. He had purchased a car, from the amount alleged to be misappropriated and had presented some valuable articles to his mistress. The car and the articles have been recovered by the police Pending enquiries, he was remanded in custody till November 24.

Two cashiers employed in a gold and silver commission agents' pedhi at Vasant Wadi, off Kalbadevi Road, were arrested last night on the charge of misappropriation of Rs. 1 000.

They are: Sunderdas Tarachand and Tejmal Dadumal.

On November 7 last, Sunderdas was, it is stated, given five notes of Rs. 1,000 each to be kept in his safe. Soon after, two more notes were handed over to him.

On the ninth instant, the commission agent desired to deposit the whole amount in bank. When the safe was opened, Sunderdas, it is stated, found a note missing

Tejmal, another cashier who was recently in the employ of the firm was also taken into custody in this connection. It is stated that following the discovery of an alleged defalcation. Tejmal was discharged from service.

The safe, it is stated was inaccessible to any but the two accused.

Pending enquiries the two cashiers were remanded in custody for a fortnight at the Esplanade Court to-day.

Sergeant Hunt, of the Princess Street Police, entered the witness box at the Chief Presidency Magistrate's Court to present an application asking for an extension of the bail period of a sutta case suspect.

Nayar Haribux the suspect, was arrested by police at Sheikh Memon Street on October 9 last as, it is alleged, he was accepting sutta bets. Since then he has been on bail.

A week's further remand on bail was asked for and granted.

A Police Constable on duty at Currey Road junction, giving evidence on the death of Gopibai Laxman, before the City Coroner to-day stated that he saw the woman trying to jump down while the car was in motion on November 6 last.

The tram-car was going from Lalbaug to Dadar. The woman fell off and sustained fatal injuries.

While classifying the case as "accidental," the jury remarked that the woman who was a passenger "very unwisely jumped out of the tram car and sustained injuries which proved fatal."

Following a traffic accident on Grant Road Bridge on the night of November 8, Nazir Ahmed, a motor-driver, sustained multiple injuries and died in the J. J. Hospital the next day. Pending Police inquiries, inquest on the body was postponed by the City Coroner to November 12.

Three lads running after a kite near Golpitha did not hear the "honking" of a B. E. S. T. bus and when the driver applied the brakes, one of them was fatally knocked down on November 6 last.

This was the evidence given by Fazal Ahmed Gama, the bus driver, at the inquest held on the boy Nathoo Maruthi, to-day.

The driver stated that he was driving his bus from Bhendy Bazaar towards Chowpatty.

The boy in his dying declaration stated that he was running and chasing a kite.

The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by shock following fracture of pelvis and added a rider that he was accidentally knocked down by a motor bus in motion at Sandhurst Road whilst listlessly chasing a kite.

CHARGE OF ARSON FAILS

High Court Acquits Brothers As Evidence Is Insufficient

The Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Macklin at the High Court set aside the sentence of 5 years' rigorous impr.sonment passed by the Additional Sessions Judge of Ahmedabad on Jivabhai Govindji and his brother Damodar Govindji

It was alleged that the two accused set fire to the timber depots at Astodia, as a result of which 11 depots were destroyed, involving a damage of Rs. 3,72,000.

The first accused had a depot which contained goods worth Rs. 8,000. It was stated that he was in financial difficulties, and in order to get Rs. 36,000 for which he had insured his stock, he had set fire to the depots in the early hours of the morning of December 26.

In acquitting the accused their Lordships held that the evidence was not strong enough to sustain the conviction.

BOMBAY SPECIAL FOR PANDHARPUR

G. I. P. Agent Urged To Rescind Decision Not To Run It

Mr. V. Narayan has addressed the following letter to the Agent, G. I. P. Railway, in reference to the question of a 'Bombay Special for Pandharpur':—

"The decision of your Advisory Committee to run no Special Train for Pandharpur on the occasion of the ensuing "Kartiki Fair," has caused anxiety to the pilgrims who will be thus deprived of a comfortable journey and concession in fares, the privileges granted by the Railway last year. To me, this decision appears rather astounding.

It is understood from the Press Report of the Meeting that the last Kartiki fair did not attract 'additional traffic.' But will it be gainsaid that the "Bombay Special" for Ekadashi was not a success? Moreover, did the Railway get less revenue per mileage compared with that yielded by the Gulbarga and Amraoti?

I was present at the Victoria Terminus when the Special Train for Kartiki Fair departed with almost a full complement with the uncommon features of a Military carriage and a Buffet compartment.

I, on behalf of the pilgrims, expressed my sincere thanks to Mr. G. E. Berkley (D. T. M.) who was personally supervising the arrangements.

The Railway Authorities are good enough to grant, often on their own accord, many tempting concessions which unfortunately are not taken advantage of. But may it be remembered that the Pandharpur concession was not easily accessible. It was achieved after a tremendous agitation which was strengthened by the unanimous resolution of the Bombay Municipal Corporation and as the experimental introduction of two Specials for "Ashadi" and one for "Kartiki" turned out successful, why do the authorities now grudge to repeat the beneficial provision.

"It is significant to note that a large number of pilgrims having been held back from attending the last "Ashadi" fair owing to the outbreak of Cholera that necessitated the cancellation of the "Bombay Specials," a great number of devotees is now likely to visit the shrine at Pandharpur.

"I would, therefore, request you to sympathetically reconsider the grievances of the pilgrims and order a "Bombay Special" for Pandharpur which should leave V. T. on 23rd instant and return to Bombay on 30th instant The facility to visit Alandi by breaking the journey at Poona on the way back, should be also retained."

MILL WORKER RUNS AMOK

Alleged To Have Attacked Two Accountants With Knife

BOMBAY, Tuesday

Krishna Ananda, a mill worker who, it is alleged, ran amock and stabbed two employees of the Crown Rope Works, at Sun Mill, Cross Lane, was remanded to custody till the 24th instant at the Dadar Police Court, to-day.

It was alleged that the trouble arose over the weekly payment of wages.

The accused was to receive Re. 1-11 but as he owed some money to the proprietor Re. 1 was deducted and 11 annas were given to him.

It seems the accused demanded full payment but the proprietor refused it.

Following this quarrel, it was alleged, Ananda was seen prowling about the mill and later stabbed Mr. Ahmedi Shira Vasi, a clerk who handled the accounts. He then ran inside the mill and stabbed another clerk doing similar work, Mr. Vallabhdas Dayabhai, and injured him in the chest,

The two injured persons were removed to the K.E.M. Hospital, where their dying depositions were recorded.

ALLEGED FALSE CLAIM

Charges Framed As Sequel To Proceedings In High Court

Charges of fraudulently suffering a decree for a false claim against a Transport Company and abetment were framed by Mr. D. N. D. Khandalawala, Presidency Magistrate, Third Court, against Chandulal P. Shroff, Partner in the Overseas Transport Company and Mahomedali Kapadia, who made the claim.

The above proceedings are a result of the sanction granted by Chief Judge, Mr. Justice Chitre, to prosecute Chandulal Shroff for suffering a decree for false claim made by Mahomedali Kapadia in a High Court suit.

After a good deal of argument, the Magistrate upheld the defence contention that a true copy of the balance sheet, which was made by the High Court clerk could not go in as an exhibit, inasmuch as, such a true copy could not be admitted, if otherwise produced. The mere fact that the true copy had been produced by the High Court clerk, who had copied it during the High Court proceedings was not enough for the Magistrate to allow it to go in as an exhibit in this case.

Before the Magistrate framed the charges, Mr A. S. R. Chari, the defence counsel argued that, in view of the fact that the Prosecution had failed to produce the books of accounts of the firm in question and had not called Ratilal, an important witness in the case so far charges should not be framed against the accused, though the Prosecution had led a mass of evidence so far. (The case was heard for 20 working days before the charges were framed).

The Magistrate pointed out that he could not compel the prosecution to call the witness at a particular stage but assured the defence counsel that he would give the accused all facilities necessary for their proper defence

Further hearing was adjourned till Nov. 23, when the prosecution witnesses will be cross-examined.

Mr. C. N. Kanuga instructed by the Public Prosecutor, appeared for the prosecution.

Mr. A. S. R. Chari appeared for the first accused and Mr. L. M. Zaveri appeared for the second accused.

Gloomy Outlook In East Asia

CHINA GAINING IN STRENGTH

Japan's Schemes In Manchuria And South Pacific May Become Her "Last Straw"

(Air Mail.)

The Associated Press has received the following from an authority on Far Eastern Affairs.

It is trite to say that the political situation in the Far East is gloomy for it has been increasingly so since the historic episode of the Blasted Rail at Mukden in October, 1931, raised the curtain for a series of Sino-Japanese incidents which have created a mutual hatred at present intense.

The Japanese Minister for Foreign Affairs on September 26th stated that relations between China and Japan had either to become very much better or very much worse. In other words, he inferred that China must accept Japan's terms, which would virtually reduce the Celestial Empire to a protectorate, or Japan would take such action as she might deem necessary to achieve her policies in China. Foreign observers are of the opinion that Sino-Japanese relations must inevitably grow more critical.

"Hasty action will not be taken", declare Japanese diplomats, however, in the fact of resolutions demanding strong action passed by Japanese military, Japanese press organisations and Japanese communities in China.

GROWING IMPORTANCE

This hesitancy is due to a number of complexities, of which the chief is that China under General Chiang Kai-Shek, is rapidly becoming an important political power. Her comparatively large and modern air-force is now supported by a huge army, much of which has been organised and drilled by German officers of distinction. Therefore, while some Japanese declare that Japan should strike now before China grows too strong, others fear that the time for attack has already passed and that a clash might lead to Japan being drawn into a major conflict which would exhaust her finances and draw upon her the disapprobation and possibly active trade hostility of the rest of the world.

Furthermore, the Chinese leaders and intelligensia are definitely in a belligerent mood. They demand war with Japan as preferable to continued rough-shod interference with the unification of their Country.

If hostilities break out, a wave of hate against their opponents will sweep through China which, aided by a widespread news broadcasting system, will be of hitherto unequalled intensity.

RUSSIAN MENACE

Russia is reputed to have 300 000 men on the Manchurian border. Japan, at present, has about 80,000 regulars and 20,000 gendarmerie and police in Manchuria, out of a total national strength of roughly 280,000 officers and men. There are also 100,000 Manchoukouan troops but these are unreliable except for policing and communications purposes.

Before embarking on an adventure in China, it is considered that Japan would be compelled to double her forces in Manchuria, to offset the Russian Far Eastern Army and to deal with the certain increase of that bandit trouble which they have been endeavouring to suppress for the past five years, but which continues to take daily toll of the Kwantung Army.

"BUFFER-ZONE"

The Japanese Army in Manchuria has used and is using many devious methods to create a buffer-zone" out of the 450,000 square miles of Chinese territory comprising Hopei, Chahar Suiyan Shansi and Shantung. But the main result achieved so far has been to raise a force antagonism among the Chinese populace. The 29th Route Army in Hopei, commanded by Japan's nominee, General Sung Cheh-Mayuan, is becoming increasingly hostile and many observers believe that the first serious clash in China may come when the Japanese Garrison in North China takes steps either to disarm the 29th Army or to force its removal south of the Yellow River. But such an event may entail a Japanese occupation of the so-called buffer-zone. It is estimated that this would require a force of not less than 50,000 men. This would mean that, with the increased forces in Manchuria, the major part of the Japanese standing army would be on the Asiatic Continent.

LAST STRAW

Such a situation would entail the calling up of reserves or fresh conscripts, which would cause much misgiving and considerable controversy internally, especially as the huge expense involved would probably be the "last straw" in Nippon's already over-burdened budget, lead to a further heavy increase in taxation and adversely affect Japan's export trade, already showing signs of having passed its zenith.

Other deterring factors are the international complexities of the Treaty-Port cities of China and fears that any attempts to blockade China's trade would lead to much friction with the other Treaty powers, notably Great Britain and the United States. There is also a belief that the two latter countries are very favourably impressed by the success achieved by General Chiang Kai-Shek in unifying China and would resent Japanese action tending to upset that unification.

Internally, there is a considerable difference of opinion on the question of whether Japan should continue to exercise diplomatic pressure or should resort to strong action. The Japanese Foreign Office naturally favours diplomacy, but its views nowadays carry little weight when they clash with those of the Army and Navy.

CHINESE SUBTLETY

The Army, according to current reports, believes that Chinese subtlety will continue to stave off Japanese action. In this connection it is worth noting that the mother wit of the Chinese diplomat practically invariably outmanoeuvres the one-track mind of the Japanese, causing a sadistic desire among the latter to invoke force.

There are, moreover, reports that the Japanese Army and Navy are at logger-heads. The Army is definitely tied up to a policy of Continental expansion, which includes a gradual pressure Westward through Inner Mongolia and North China to ensure a barrier between China Proper and Soviet Russia, thus preventing the spread of Communism southward.

Japanese military posts already control all points of importance in Inner Mongolia while her military missions keep watch at key cities in Northern China as far west as Minghsia, on the upper reaches of the Yellow River.

ARMY'S MOVE

In pursuit of its ultimate aims, the Army, therefore, wants to use the opportunity created by recent anti-Japanese incidents to force the Nanking Government to "recognise" Japan's "special position" in North China, which involves political, military and economic domination, possibly believing that the other Powers, involved in their own troubles, will not interfere as they very well might if Japan sought advantages further south.

The Navy, on the other hand, fully determined that Japan's future lies in the South Pacific, is extremely annoyed by the huge military expenditures which have been necessitated to meet the aftermath of the Mukden incident. It claims that world history shows no nation can long maintain simultaneously a first-class Navy and a first-class Army; that, therefore, Japan should budget for a first-class navy and a second-rate army, especially as the past five years have amply demonstrated that Army's adventure in Manchuria has merely resulted in a huge expenditure with no material benefit to the nation. The Navy therefore argues that incidents in China should be dealt with locally; that the expansion of Japanese military influence in North China should cease and that Japan should only seek economic advantages in that empire, based on the strengthening of local spheres of influence arising from such incidents.

PRESENT OUTLOOK

The present outlook suggests that the Army will, for the time being, have its way. If Japanese nationals continue to be killed in China, armed intervention is a certainty. And once that takes place, it is difficult to forecast the extent to which Japan may be drawn into an exhausting struggle. As an important Chinese diplomat informed me some twelve months ago, China fully realises that her forces are not yet sufficiently organised to hope for military success; that they would suffer heavy slaughter; that her coast ports would be bombarded and probably devastated, but he could see no other way to end Japanese pressure and declared his nation would willingly face the terrors of modern war in the belief that eventually the rest of the world would be compelled to intervene or Japan be forced to recognise that the fight to dominate a nation of 450,000,000 people must eventually result in the complete exhaustion of her own national strength.

ing their crutches at the doctor who saved them'—a typical Lloyd-Georgian simile.

"There is no doubt", added Lord Lothian, "that the American people suffered a tremendous shock in the economic disaster which fell upon them in 1929

"The progress of American capitalism in a 'laisses-faire' individualist system had been a stupendous and fascinating spectacle from the Civil War to the depression. It looked as if it would be eternal. That situation will never recur.

SOCIALISM COMING?

"An increasing number of American people realise this, but it is difficult to forecast future developments, except that there will be an increased cleavage between Left and Right.

"One very shrewd observer told me that he thought Socialism would develop very rapidly in the U.S.A. owing to conflict between capital and labour over trade unionism. He said it might be a good thing on that account if Roosevelt did not win this election.

"If Roosevelt were out of office the forces of the Left might develop on normal lines. Roosevelt himself being their leader and figurehead.

"On the other hand, he thought it quite possible that if Roosevelt were returned he might at the end of his term of office be very unpopular, and that there might be a violent driving to the Right followed by an equally violent swing to the Left.

"Roosevelt is a great politician and, in my opinion, thoroughly sincere in his fundamental convictions. But in administration he is admittedly an improviser—a trial-and-error man. That is the real source of his difficulties. His critics argue that so far it has been all error and nothing else.

"But it is pretty certain that Roosevelt will continue this method, keeping as a fundamental basis of action his view of capital that it must be made to function for the good of everybody and not only for his owner."

Lord Lothian, after nearly six weeks in the States, has come back to England with very gloomy views—he calls them 'realistic'—about the situation in Europe. That is scarcely surprising. It is also another story.

"America's attitude towards Europe at present" he says, "is one of benevolent isolation, with an emphasis on isolation. She regards the rest of the world as mad and refuses to be mixed up with the madness".

LLOYD GEORGE OF AMERICA

Roosevelt Attacks Privilege But Is Not Anti-Capitalist, Says Lord Lothian

LONDON. (By Air Mail).

Lord Lothian, who has just returned to England from America in the "Queen Mary"—he seems to have enjoyed her rolling in the gale.

In an interview to "News Chronicle" Lord Lothian said:

"Roosevelt might almost be described as America's Lloyd George. He has many of Lloyd George's electioneering gifts

"He understands the common people; he is extraordinarily quick in the uptake; he keeps his ear to the ground, and knows what the ground vibrations mean. He is a first-class speaker; he says the right things with humour, humanity and force; and he has a perfect radio voice and manner.

ATTACK ON PRIVILEGE.

"He is attacking privilege represented by Wall Street just as Lloyd George attacked privilege represented by the House of Lords. The figure on whose behalf he pleads is the figure of the forgotten man whom business orthodoxy during the depression was unable to help He declares that the Government of the U.S.A. must represent the people of the United States and not Wall Street, and that it is the business of the State to do something to save the individual who is no longer in a position to save himself from going on to the rocks.

"Roosevelt has thrown overboard or blanketted all the wild men like Townsend, Father Coughlin and the heirs of Huey Long and has thereby greatly strengthened his chances. But his other asset is that he is appealing to the growing sentiment all over the world that, just 150 years ago the United States gave effect to the idea that Government must function in the interests of all the people, so now "property, the economic system, must be made to function for the benefit of all the people".

"Roosevelt is not Socialist or anti-capitalist. He is far nearer the position of the great British Liberal Government of 1906. But he is responding none the less to the main ground swell of our times.

GOOD PROGRESSIVE

"Landon, the Republican nominee, has a good progressive record in the Middle West. He is a sound, honest fellow, fighting a clean fight.

"He is attacking the President on the extravagance of the Administration, on the alleged challenge to the Constitution on an unbalanced budget and on the use of the vast sums of money distributed in relief for political purposes.

ROOSEVELT'S STAND.

"If Roosevelt wins it will not be on any programme for the future. He is not putting forward a programme; he is appealing for support on the strength of his record in office. 'Look', he says, 'at the position four years ago when the country was going fast down the hill after the biggest blow American capitalism had ever received and then compare the position to-day.

"Then every business man was coming to Washington for help. To-day many of them are throw-

RAILWAY UNIONS' CONSTITUENCIES

Two-Hundred Go To Poll In Primary Election

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

The polling in the primary election in the Railway Unions' constituencies was held at the Damoder Thackersey Hall, Parel, today.

The election is for the constitution of an Electoral College which will, in its turn, elect two candidates for two seats reserved for the Trade Unions of railway workers on the Bombay Provincial Legislative Assembly under the new reforms.

The Electoral College, in the first instance, consists of 10 delegates, to be elected by the members of the Railway Workers Unions and these delegates, in their turn, will elect two members on the Legislative Assembly.

Hitherto, five delegates from the various B. B. & C. I. Railway Workers' Unions were elected and one delegate from the Hubli Union of the M. & S. M. railway workers has been returned.

The polling, at present, is for the election of four delegates from the G. I. P. Railway Workers' Unions, and the polling stations are located at Bombay, Kalyan, Bhusawal and Sholapur.

PERFECT ARRANGEMENTS.

At the Bombay polling booth, the arrangements were perfect and, by the afternoon, out of a total number of 259 voters, more than 200 had already gone to the poll.

The candidates are Messrs. S. H. Jhabvala, R. A. Khedgiker, D. L. Risbud and B. D. Bhosekar on behalf of the G. I. P. Railway Workers' Union (T. U. C.) and Messrs. B. A. Pradhan, Dama Asarba and Gulab Laxman on behalf of the G. I. P. Railway New Staff Union (N. F. T. U).

Mr. S. V. Deshpande, Assistant Commissioner of Labour, was the presiding officer at the polling station.

CO-OP. MOVEMENT IN HOLKAR STATE

INDORE, Nov. 10.

A Co-operative Conference was held at Sahavad a few miles from here and Mr. S. V. Kanungo, Finance Minister, Holkar State, inaugurated it and Mr. S. L. Tambe presided.

Mr. Tambe briefly surveyed the history of the Co-operative movement in the Holkar State, since its inception some two decades back. The movement, he said, has made much progress owing to the support of the State and selfless devotion of a band of co-operators.

Nearly 300 delegates attended the conference out of which 200 were agriculturists.

The Conference passed a number of resolutions pertaining to interests and agricultural and rural uplift etc.—United Press.

IMITATED BUT NEVER EQUALED . . . PARKER, THE MECHANICALLY PERFECT PEN

EVER since fountain pens were invented, the world has wanted a pen which would hold twice as much ink—show the level of ink at all times—and which would not run dry in the midst of writing.

Working parts of the patented filling device are never touched by ink—hence cannot corrode and get out of order.

And only the Parker Vacumatic has the scratch-proof, two-way writing point of precious platinum combined with solid gold! It never drags, never pulls. Another feature that places the Vacumatic years ahead!

Don't be misled by attempts to imitate the World's Favorite Pen. You want only a Parker Vacumatic.

PULL THESE BRISTLES OUT

● Now, Pro-phy-lac-tic introduces PERMA-GRIP—the greatest advancement since the introduction of the tufted end. PERMA-GRIP—exclusive with Pro-phy-lac-tic—securely anchors the bristles in the handle to stay—they hold for the life of the brush. No more bristles falling out of the handle, wedging between your teeth, penetrating, possibly infecting your gums.

Ask for Prophylactic Perma-Grip, always sold in the yellow box. Look for the hyphenated name.

While the Perma-Grip process prevents bristles from coming out of the handle, nothing now known will prevent them from occasionally breaking off outside the handle. We sincerely believe this happens far less in our brushes than in any others.

Someone has been advertising willingness to pay a good price for the snuff-box used by the late T. P. O'Connor if it can be found. There are many snuff-boxes among the lots coming under the hammer this season in the London salesrooms. They promise to provide some excitement. At the first sale to have such lots this week, £330-5s., was top bid for a gold box with a miniature in the lid, while other boxes fetched from one hundred guineas to more than two hundred pounds. A friend at Westminster says there are two old snuff-boxes among the "plate" or civic belongings of that city. Not many of the old cities of Britain possess civic snuff-boxes.

Chetwode On Allenby

Field-Marshal Sir Philip Chetwode paid a high tribute, as never done before, to Lord Allenby at the Royal Central Associate Society dinner. The speech was inspired by the affection of a friend and the admiration of a soldier for his old friend.

Sir Philip brought out all the sides, some unknown, some hitherto hardly suspected, of Lord Allenby's character. Only the friend and the brother-in-arms, for instance, could have made the point that Lord Allenby's knowledge of the Old Testament helped him in his Palestine campaign. Equally remarkable was the picture of a "not so happy" Lord Allenby after the war as he watched the decline of British power.

A speech in which humour was allowed to creep in with the picture of the two Nebuched-nezzars —Mr. Lloyd George and President Wilson—piping to the peoples to worship the golden image at Geneva ended on a more hopeful note. Sir Philip Chetwode before he sat down asserted that in spite of the last 15 years he was still an optimist.

Lord Lloyd, as the new president, occupied the chair which Lord Allenby used to take. After deprecating amid laughter the rank of Field-Marshal which the menu had conferred upon him for the evening, Lord Lloyd recalled another famous previous president, Lord Curzon. There was laughter again when, going back a long way in the histonv of the society, he referred to the way in which Lord Curzon had once scourged Lord Winterton for admitting a preference for Africa over Asia.

(From Our Correspondent.)

BARODA, Nov. 9.

An interesting cricket match between All Baroda and Rander Islam Gymkhana for Chinoobhai Baronet Shield is being played on the College grounds.

Baroda scored 492 of which Ghorpode contributed 153 and Parmar 119 both playing a remarkable game.

Gymkhana replied with 83 in first innings, Ismail remaining unbeaten with 47.

Yamwande captured 5 for 22 and Ghorpode 3 for 17.

Gymkhana was made to follow on and collected 90 for one wicket at tea interval.

St. Mary's Hostel For Indian Students

The Rector, St. Mary's European High School, writes:—

Close observation, sympathetic study and frequent contact with Indian students in England reveals the many difficulties under which even brilliant students labour. Their sojourn among strangers in a country both new and unfamiliar to them, and in an environment totally dissimilar to that in which they have been reared, is fraught with difficulties, which, in the long run, are bound to prove a great hindrance to their studies, but they can be tabulated under four main heads.

With the object of helping students to overcome these obstacles, it is proposed to open a Hostel in Bombay affiliated to St. Mary's High School, where they can receive a special preparation while studying for their Senior Cambridge Examination. The Hostel will be a separate residence and will be provided with all the amenities of a home.

The boys will be able to join either the Senior Cambridge or the Matriculation Class. They will receive special tuition with a view to being able to express themselves in correct, idiomatic English. They will be taught phonetics according to the system devised by Prof. Jones of the London University, including articulation, pronunciation and intonation. Every facility will be given to make them thoroughly acquainted with the language.

The Hostel will be run on European lines. Vegetarian and other food will be served in European fashion. Instructions will be given in manners, customs, and conventions. Thus, without detriment to their love for India and their own particular caste, they will gradually acquire a knowledge of Western culture and manners, and be prepared for entering an unfamiliar sphere.

Also they will receive expert advice regarding what studies to take up at the University and the best means of doing so. If desired, their admission into a particular College can be secured, and all arrangements made before they leave India.

The rules of the Hostel will be especially arranged to allow of the student's learning to use his independence prudently. If the change from the ordinary school routine is gradual, the reaction is diminished, and the student will be less liable to commit mistakes.

It is possible that there are some Indian boys who would wish to secure the advantage of a European training, but yet do not desire to proceed to England. A limited number of such boys could be admitted; they could study either in the Senior Cambridge or the Matriculation department, whichever they prefer.

It only remains to be seen whether there are sufficient applications to warrant the opening of such Hostel in Bombay. With forty or fifty students, it could be started at the beginning of next year. Those, therefore, who are prepared to take advantage of the scheme should write at once for fuller information to the Rector, St. Mary's European High School, Bombay 10.

CURRENCY NOTES DISAPPEAR

Found By Laundry Boy

(From Our Own Correspondent).

BANDRA, Nov. 10.

Joseph Phillip Albuquerque lodged a complaint on November 8 at the Bandra Police Station, stating that he had been robbed of Rs. 458-10 in cash and currency notes.

Albuquerque, who is working in the Home Department of the Secretariat, Bombay, stated that he removed Rs. 1,113 on November 3, from his Provident Fund. After spending Rs. 654-6, he visited his laundry, and there had some drinks with his father and Ignatius Francis Gonsalves of Santa Cruz. His father, Gonsalves and the laundry boy Shanker Govind Sawant of Bandra then accompanied Albuquerque to his house.

It was only after dinner that he discovered that the currency notes and cash had disappeared from his coat pocket. He went and lodged a complaint with the Police. The Police searched the whole premises of laundry but found nothing. On Monday Albuquerque informed the police that Rs. 450 had been found by Shanker in the laundry. The notes have been attached by the police. Sub-Inspector A. M. Desai of the Bandra Police is now making enquiries.

"TREMENDOUS ADVANCE"

Punjab Governor Urges Support To New Constitution

LAHORE, Nov. 10.

"The Punjab is virile and progressive. Feelings are apt to run high at times and occasions will arise in the future as in the past when the task of administration will not be easy but underneath there are solid foundations of sound commonsense and it is this which will see the province through its difficulties as they occur. The new Constitution is a tremendous advance on the old one but it contains little for which the present one has not prepared the ground and I believe the Punjab will acquit itself as honourably under the one as it has done under the other. There was a general desire to secure just, stable and efficient administration and to work to a successful end the Constitution in the spirit in which it had been conceived. The fulfilment of hopes will lie mainly with the people and their representatives. They can count on the loyal assistance of the servants of Government and with all working for a common good the task will be achieved. For myself I will strive within the Constitution to do all that is possible to ensure success and particularly to foster and strengthen the spirit of disinterested public service which is the keynote of good and stable Government."

Thus declared H's Excellency the Governor of Punjab addressing the Punjab Council on its dissolution this morning.

RURAL UPLIFT.

Referring to the rural reconstructions His Excellency expressed satisfaction to find more vigorous life in villages. The spirit of progress. His Excellency said, was abroad which was typical of the movement which was gathering force under its own momentum. There was immense amount of solid work being done, which was greatly assisted by special grants by the Government of India.

The time was ripe for a big advance, continued His Excellency, and no matter what its character might be the Government of the day would find that one of its most absorbing tasks would be to give a clear lead to the people eager to go ahead. Conditions were auspicious and any Government based on popular vote must extend and intensify the policy of rural reconstructions. It was not a matter of urban "versus" rural interests. Two were so closely knit together that it was impossible to think of them apart. Artificial distinctions between them were merely obscure economic realities.—United Press.

PROGRESS OF HINDI IN BOMBAY

Mayor Assures Support To Municipal Schools

A benefit performance in aid of the Hindi Schools was held at the Sir Cawasji Jehangir Hall on Sunday last under the presidentship of Mr. Jamnadas Mehta Mayor of Bombay. The programme comprised feats of archery by Prof. Yashpal of Gurukula Vidyalaya, Hardwar and physical feats.

Mr. Chiranjilal Loyalka, President of the Hindi Bhashya Association at the interval narrated the aims and objects of the Association and said that a need was felt for such an organisation to look to the special needs of the Hindi speaking community in the city. They were first trying to open sufficient number of schools for the education of their children through their mother tongue. The Association had nearly 4,000 members on their roll and had already opened 16 day and night schools in different parts of the city.

Mr. Jamnadas Mehta speaking in Hindi spoke in eulogising terms about the efforts of the Hindi Bhashi Association to supplement Municipality's work to remove illiteracy in the city. He assured them that as Mayor of the city Municipal Corporation he would do whatever was in his power whenever this question was brought before the Corporation by their representatives. Mr. L. R. Tairsee and Mr. Govardhandas Morarji also spoke on the importance of Hindi.

Harijan Candidates Returned Unopposed

LAHORE, Nov. 10.

Hansraj Megh and Chaudhri Prem Singh have been returned unopposed from the depressed classes constituencies of Amritsar Sialkot and Gurgaon respectively following the scrutiny of nomination papers for primary election from the eight general depressed classes constituencies in the province. There was no contest for primary election from five other constituencies, the number of candidates being four or less, while information about the eight constituency has not yet been received.—A. P.

Large Bureau Figures Cotton Markets

Bulls Rely On Large Textile Sales

World Consumption Of Cotton Expanding

BOMBAY, November, 10.

Considerable surprise was caused on the New York Cotton Exchange on Monday by the large Bureau figures.

The general sentiment was divided over the future course of the market with Bulls relying on the recent large Textile sales and strength of spot cotton, although there was much discussion regarding the proper price-levels in view of larger U.S.A. and foreign crops.

It is generally believed that the consumption of cotton will increase preventing burdensome supplies. The American Bureau report figures were as under:—

	November 1	October 1
Production	12,460,000	11,609,000
Yield	199.7 lbs.	186.9 lbs.

These figures were considered bearish and after the release of the Bureau report there was consid rable long liquidation which resulted in a decline of 22 points per lb. but active trade buying resulted in a rally of 12 points and the tone of the market was steady.

The New York cotton futures market opened steady. Large Bureau figures surprised the trade and after early advance there was trade price-fixing and covering. Prices later declined on long liquidation and heavy hedge selling but rallied partially on improved trade buying.

This season the cotton trade was misled by the crop reporting Board of the U. S. Agriculture Department. During the early part of the season there was a belief of a crop of about 12 million bales and the official report came out with an estimate of 12¼ million bales. Later on there were reports of serious damage and the estimate was reduced to 111 lacs. Now the crop estimate is raised to 124 lacs. It will be seen that the Bureau estimates were far from the actual state were more or less inspired by weather conditions.

The crop is largely marketed and with excellent sales of cloth in U. S. A. and a good turnover in Lancashire, it is believed that the consumption of cotton will be satisfactory. But now there remains less enthusiasm and there will be no shortage of cotton.

President Roosevelt is believed to [illegible]

keep up to the spirit of New Deal with control of production and there will be no room for a big decline. Cotton prices will now fluctuate within a range of about two cents during coming months.

NEW YORK MARKET

The New York cotton futures market opened at a rise of one point with March 11.88. There was fairly active buying and a rise of 8 points was reached with March 11.95 which was the highest level for the day. After the Bureau report there was heavy selling and prices declined 30 points from the highest level and March was quoted 11.65 which was the lowest level. Later prices rallied and the market closed at a net decline of 9 to 13 points. Spot cotton prices were 11 points lower at 12.24c. per lb.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

The New Orleans cotton futures market was weak and closed at a decline of 16 to 12 points. Spot cotton prices were reduced 14 points at 12.22c. per lb.

LIVERPOOL MARKET

The Liverpool cotton futures market opened at a rise of 2 points with March 6.70. There was trade and Bombay buying with speculative support of distant positions which met with hedging. After the Bureau report there was trade calling and local covering with London and local liquidation. The market closed at a decline of 10 to 4 points. Middling American spot cotton prices improved one point at 6.96d. per lb.

EGYPTIAN COTTON

Egyptian cotton market was irregular. Sakels futures closed 8 to 4 points up and Uppers declined 3 to 5 points.

The Alexandria cotton futures market was quiet and steady and closed at a rise of 23 points to a decline of 7 points.

Messrs. M and B. Stern states:—After a variation of nearly 1 1/2 million bls. the U.S.A. Government have now returned to about their first estimate in August. Prices to-day at the same level but with the bulk of the crop hedged and the majority of those hedges taken by trade. In face of yesterday's large increase the N. Y. market acted well and though there may be some further liquidation we do not look for any material setback. With the increase in outside growths speculative activity may be curbed but we believe speculators will hesitate to make short sales due to the excellent trade reports in U. S. A. and improving conditions in Europe. With the large amount of untenderable cotton in this season's American supply estimated at about 3 1/2 million bales, we think a scarcity of contracts will occur as the season advances and look for the markets to work gradually higher. Although the total of outside growths will be bigger, the latest advices to the N. Y. Cotton Exchange point to a Brazilian crop of between 1,389,000 to 1,480,000 bales compared with earlier estimates of 1,600,000 to 1,700,000 bales and 1,530,000 bales last season.

Their Liverpool Agents cabled as under:

Report may cause temporary decline, but believe, will be more than offset by encouraging trade prospects.

Cable received from one of our New York friends:—

Market acted extremely well in face of bearish Bureau Report. Trade good buyer on decline. Goods market strong; sales at highest prices of the year.

Messrs. Devkaran Nanjee have received the following cable advices from their foreign friends:—

Liverpool: "Estimate considerably above expectations, producing substantial liquidation; likely induce further selling stale bulls, but think trade situation will prevent much decline."

(2) "Bureau report is more favourable than expected. Don't think prices will decline much. But would not buy further at present."

(3) "Report is considered bearish. The basis in south is firm. Offerings very limited. Our opinion is that the market will not go much lower. As the market is depressed, it is probably a good time to buy."

(4) "World consumption expanding would rather buy."

New York: "Report caused liquidation of longs. Selling well absorbed prospective increase in consumption offsetting increased crop estimate."

(2) "Think consumption will increase preventing burdensome supplies. Good trade demand. Price fixing purchases should be made during the weak spots."

Messrs Chunilal Mehta and Co. Ltd. have received to-day the following cable information from their foreign friends:—

Liverpool:—

Ginned 98,82,000. Production 1,24,00,000. World consumption expanding. Would rather buy.

Bureau higher than expected but excellent consumption more important. Advise buying on decline.

Bureau about 4,00,000 above general expectations but no material decline probable as weight of movement is already passed. Farmers reputed to be pressing Roosevelt for constitutional amendment and restoration of A.A.A.

New York:—

Agricultural Department Report staggered the market. Do not think the bearish factors have been sufficiently discounted as yet and therefore expect the lower trend to continue somewhat longer. Have an idea that delivery notices may be fairly heavy and so put prices temporarily lower.

Government estimate above expectations, but if correct any excess above consumption is not enough to justify any important sustained decline. Daily hedges should diminish and be offset by fixations.

Bureau bearish but domestic textile activity strong sustaining influence. Future course of prices depends largely on America's ability to compete exports. Would rather buy on recessions.

Messrs. Brett and Co. have received the following cables:—

Liverpool: "Bureau estimate considerably above expectations producing substantial liquidation and likely to induce further selling by stale Bulls, but think trade situation will prevent much decline."

New York: "Market sustained by trade buying; further advances will depend on trade activity."

THUNDERSTORM OVER CITY

But Colaba Registers Only 93 Cents Of Rain!

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

The city was taken by surprise last night when cyclonic weather accompanied by vivid flashes of lightning and peals of thunder was experienced, after a prolonged spell of dry weather and sunshine during the last two or three months.

But despite what appeared to be a terrific downpour the total rainfall registered at Colaba for the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m., today was only 93 cents.

In the morning the weather was a bit chilly and the sky was dull, but as the day wore on, sultry conditions prevailed.

This chill weather and rain are considered not unusual during this time of the year in Bombay. Such occasional stormy weather conditions have been experienced in the past. Veteran citizens of Bombay recall that about this time in 1927 two boats were sunk off the coast on account of a cyclone.

CYCLONIC STORM IN ARABIAN SEA

Likelihood Of Its Intensification

POONA, November 10.

The cyclonic storm in the Arabian Sea was centred at eight hours this morning, within half a degree of latitude sixteen and half a degree of longitude seventy-one and half. It is likely to move in a northeasterly or northerly direction and may intensify.

Widespread rain has fallen in the Peninsula, West Central provinces, Central India and local rain in East Rajputana while a few falls are reported from Gujrat, West United Provinces, East Central Provinces.

Chief amounts of rainfall are:—Jalgaon and Malegaon four inches; Khandwa and Ratnagiri three each; Guna, Akola and Aurangabad two each; Karwar, Chitaldrug, Trichinopoly, Anantapur and Kodaikanal one and half. Bombay, Mangalore and Cuddapah one.

Forecast:—Rainfall will continue fairly widespread in the Peninsula, West Central Provinces, Central India; extend into the United Provinces and occur locally in East Rajputana and Gujrat and at a few stations in East Central Provinces. A few thunderstorms are also likely to occur in Burma, Orissa, Chota Nagpur and Bihar.

Heavy Rainfall Warning:—Moderate to heavy rain is likely to continue in Central India, West Central Provinces and the Konkan during the next thirty-six hours.—A.P.

Recrudescence Of Rioting In City

Stabbing Cases Cause Panic And Closing Of Bazaars

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

There was a series of outbreaks of violence in some parts of the city on Tuesday morning.

SHOPS CLOSE

All the bazars in Sheik Memon Street and in and around the vicinity promptly closed down their shops and the streets were completely deserted.

All the roads leading to Pydhonie, Bhendi Bazar, Kumbharwada and Kamatipura were completely deserted when police patrols passed through.

Mr. W. R. G. Smith, Commissioner of Police, took charge of his office to-day on his return from England.

Mr. U'Ren, Deputy Commissioner, (Division) and the Superintendents of the sections affected were out on the street posting police pickets at all strategic points.

Clash At Kamatipura

At 7-30 a.m. this morning at Kamatipura, 5th Lane and centre road there was a clash between Hindus and Muslims. Stones, Sodawater bottles, clubs and sticks were freely used and eighteen persons received injuries.

Of these seven were removed to the J. J. Hospital; 6 were treated on the spot by Ambulance Cars which arrived on the scene; one was removed to the Congress Hospital and six to the Muslim Hospital.

Of the injured in this skirmish eight were Hindus and the rest Muslims.

The Police arrested seven persons on the scene and cleared the rest with a lathi charge. The streets were littered with stones and pieces of glass showing the fury with which the battle was fought.

Fire Spreads

The news of this disturbance spread rapidly and at 10-30 a.m. an old Hindu who came out of his house to purchase some crackers for his children at a shop near the Round Temple was set upon by some Muslims and stabbed to death.

Half an hour thereafter three further assaults were reported. A Hindu walking past the Jackeria Masjid was assaulted with sticks and his head was cracked. He was removed to the hospital.

A Muslim panwalla at Kamatipura was set upon by some Hindu hooligans and assaulted with sticks. He was removed to the hospital. A Hindu walking along Telli Gully, off Grant Road was chased and stabbed by some Muslims.

The man was picked up by the police and taken in a precarious condition to the hospital.

At 1-30 p.m. the trouble had spread further and a Multani gentleman Gouri Shanker Kamiram was passing along Suttar Gulli, near the Jumma Musjid when some Muslim Hooligans came from behind and brutally stabbed him.

His cries for help created a panic in the locality and the man was rescued and removed post haste to the G. T. Hospital.

A few minutes after this another Hindu Harjivandas Gokalji was brought into the G. T. Hospital with a stab wound.

The news caused a sensation in the bazaar and all shops closed down. The streets were completely deserted and the trams and buses running through the disturbed areas were practically empty.

Tukaram Shivram Tambe, who was stabbed at Dongri yesterday morning succumbed to his injuries to-day. This brings the total of the dead to 72 and the injured to 705 up to date.

RIOT CASES AT MAZAGAON

A number of persons who were arrested last month for the breach of the Curfew Order and on other technical offences and who were in police custody, were placed before Mr. Oscar Brown, at Mazagaon Police Court to-day.

Some of them were discharged and seven of them will be deported by the order of the Police Commissioner while others were ordered to be in Police custody till November 24 1936.

Mr. M. T. Kadarbhoy, of the Muslim Relief Committee appeared for some of the accused persons and requested that the bail amount should be reduced.

Alleged Assault

Alleged to have assaulted Somnath Shivram at Mumbadevi last night, Jagannath Keshavlal was remanded on bail for a fortnight at the Esplanade Police Court to-day.

The victim was admitted to the J. J. Hospital and detained for treatment.

Victims Of Riots

The Muslim Peace and Relief Committee has published the list of those Muslims who died during the riots and during the week-end, for the information of those who are relatives of the deceased, with a request to come to the office of the Committee at Kolsa Mohalla for their legitimate claim. Beside that the Committee requests those injured or wounded Muslims or their relatives to record their claims and losses soon at the office also.

The names and ages of persons killed are:

Mohamed Latif (20); Gulam Husain (25); Ramzan Husain (35); Mohamedali Imamuddin (40); Saddik (20); Dilawarkhan (20); Karamkhan (48); Amir Mala (25); Sattarkhan (25); Abdul Latif Abdul Majid (35); Sheikh Younus (50); Sayed Abdulkarim (46); Abdulrehman Nathoo (35) Mohamed Mushtakali (36); Fakhruddin Abdulali (24); Abdulrehman (25); Abdul Wahab (Chatni Mohalla) Kadir Ishak (Chandan Wadi) and two Sheedis and one Bohri (unknown).

The opening ceremony of the Bombay Women's Swadeshi Exhibition was performed by Miss Bahadurji (centre.) A group of the organisers of the exhibition.

The Bombay Divisional Co-operative Institute social gathering was held on Sunday morning at Laxmi Baug Bhatwadi, Girgaum under the Presidentship of Mr. Jamnadas Mehta seen in the centre.

RED ASSASSINS STILL AT WORK

Two More Victims To "Arson Campaign" In Lahore

LAHORE Nov. 8.

"Arson campaign", which is the work of what is known as the "Society of Red Assassins", is increasing in civil area. Two more cases have been lodged with the police. The victims were a Hindu Bar-at-Law, Mr. Shambhoo Lal Puri and Mr. J. V. Ram Nath.

It is alleged that some miscreant set ablaze the chik hanging on the outer door of Mr. Puri's bungalow on Fane Road, last night. The inmates who woke up, extinguished the fire in time. Two red posters were found nearby.

The second victim Mr. J. M. Ram Nath informed the police that his car was set on fire last night at 9 p.m. in his residence on the Palm Church Road. The car was, however not wrecked. Two red posters were also found.

Two cases of similar type have been brought to the notice of the police by R. B. Lala Durga Dass, Advocate and Major Townsend of the Punjab Regiment. The police is investigating the mysterious cases.—United Press.

FIRST ELECTED PRESIDENT

Khan Bahadur Abdul Rahim Occupies Chair In Frontier Council

PESHAWAR, Nov. 9.

Khan Bahadur Abdul Rahim the nominated President of the Frontier Council since February was unanimously elected President, when the Council opened its last session to-day. As soon as the Governor's approval was received the Home Member conveyed a message of congratulations from the Governor to Khan Bahadur Abdul Rahim on being the first elected President of the Council.

Khan Bahadur Abdul Rahim assured that he would hold the scales even between all parties and sections.

Hardships Increase In Famine Land

Water Scarcity Adds To Plight Of Distressed

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT)

DOHAD, November, 10.

The scarcity of water is keenly felt in the villages of the famine stricken area of Dohad and Jhalod Talugs.

In the eastern part of Jhalod Taluq which is worst affected, people and cattle have to drink water from dirty stagnant pools in the dried-up rivers and kotars, the very sight of which and the bad smell emanating from them, would shock any man habituated to drink clean water. The water level in the existing wells have gone very deep and have very little left in them. It may not last for more than a month or two.

Even the town of Dohad is faced with water scarcity in spite of many good wells, as all these wells have little water in them.

Municipality's Duty

The Dohad Municipality, it seems, is not as active as it ought to be to solve the problem and to supply good drinking water to about 20,000 souls. Will the Municipality take the right step at the opportune time and solve the problem of water supply which is the first necessity of human life before it is too late when some epidemic due to bad and insufficient water may break out? The Government also should be alert and devise sufficient means for providing good water to the villagers and their cattle.

Conditions Get Worse

The condition of the Bhil peasantry is worsening day by day. Bhils are flocking to the relief works started by the Government. At Agawada tank repair work the number of labourers has risen to one thousand.

Government has opened Dholka Khakhra tank repair work in the eastern part of Jhalod Mahal as the Sabli tank work has been completed. The relief works which are at present going on are insufficient and fall far short of the requirements of the people. For every group of 10 to 12 villages a relief work should be started to provide labour to all needy Bhils.

In some villages of Dohad Taluka Rabi seeds have been sown but the crops are not progressing as there is not enough moisture in the soil. Moreover insects like 'kharpadi' are destroying them. So, there is no prospect of rabi harvest for these few villages which are now in the same category as other unfortunate villages of Dohad Taluk.

Candidates For Fairpur

For the 50th Annual Session of the Indian National Congress Dohad and Jhalod Taluqs have received seven delegates of which 2 are from Dohad town Constituency and 5 from five village constituencies of both the talukas.

From Dohad Constituency 5 and from village Constituencies 15 candidates have filed in their applications which are sanctioned by the Gujarat Provincial Congress Committee. Prominent among them are Messrs. Laxmidas Shreekant, Pandurang Vanikar, Sukhdev Trivedi Ishwarlal Vaidya, Ganpatishanker Bhatt who are all tried workers in this Bhil tract. They are all pure Congressites. Among 20 candidates ten are Socialists. The election is to take place on 19th November, and preparations and canvassing are going on briskly from both the parties.

BHAI PARMANAND DISAPPOINTED

PATNA, Nov. 10.

Bhai Parmanand, who was here for last two days with the object of running Hindu Sabha candidates in the ensuing elections in coalition with Ministers or Zemindars Party, left this morning for Lahore.

Interviewed by "United Press" Bhai Parmanand said that his mission was not successful and the object did not take any definite shape. The local Hindu Sabha did not have any enthusiasm to run their candidates.

Bhai Permanand is, however, still optimistic in his idea of running Hindu Sabha candidates and expressed his desire to visit Patna early next month.—United Press.
